Such a permit may be granted upon written application to the director and the payment of a fee of ten dollars, shall expire on December thirty-first next succeeding the date of issue, and may be revoked by the director for the violation by the holder thereof of any provision of this chapter. Any such barrels, boxes or other containers delivered to or transported by any carrier without being marked as above required, and the lobsters or lobster meat therein, shall be seized and forfeited. Section 48. In case of seizure by any duly authorized officer of any lobsters or lobster meat contained in any barrel, box or other container which is not marked as provided in section forty-seven, or of any lobster measuring less than the length prescribed by section forty-four, such lobsters as are alive and measure less than such prescribed length shall be liberated by the director, and all other such lobsters and all such lobster meat found in such barrel, box or other container shall be held and disposed of as provided in section fifty.

Local Control of Shellfisheries.

Section 52. The selectmen of a town bordering upon coastal waters, if so authorized by their town, and the board of aldermen or the city council of any city so situated may control, regulate or prohibit the taking of eels and any or all kinds of shellfish and sea worms within such cities and towns and may, from time to time, without other or special authority therefor, make any regulations not contrary to law in regard to said fisheries as they deem expedient, including the times, places, methods, purposes, uses, sizes, quantities and any other particulars of such taking, and may grant permits, and establish the fees therefor, subject to any such regulation, then or thereafter in force. Any such authorizations to said selectmen hereunder shall continue in force until subsequent action of such town shall repeal the same. Any regulations made under authority of this section shall continue in force until the board of aldermen, city council, or selectmen, as the case may be, shall alter, amend, rescind or repeal the same, or the authority of the selectmen to make and enforce such regulation shall be repealed.

Cities and towns may regulate taking of shellfish, etc.

Procedure,
publication
of regulations, etc.

Any regulations made hereunder shall take effect as therein stated, shall be published by posting a copy of the same in the office of the aldermen, city council or selectmen making the same, and in the office of the city or town clerk, and in three or more public places in said city or town, or by publishing the same once in a newspaper, if any, published in said city or town, and by sending a certified copy thereof to the director, twenty-four hours at least before the time set for the same to take effect; provided that the director may, if he deems it necessary for the protection of shellfish in emergency, authorize the making of such regulations effective immediately, in which case publication shall be made within forty-eight hours after the same shall take effect. The records of the aldermen, city council or selectmen, as to the contents of the regulations, and the method and time of publication thereof, or a copy thereof attested by their secretary, shall be prima facie evidence of such facts therein stated. The records of the town as to the instructions to the selectmen, or a copy thereof attested by the town clerk, shall be prima facie evidence of such instructions.

If any city or town bordering on the coastal waters neglects or refuses to take the control of the shellfish, sea worms or eels within its boundaries as provided in this section, such control shall be temporarily exercised by the director for the benefit of such city or town and such authority shall continue until such time as the aldermen or city council of such city or the selectmen under authority of a vote of such town shall take over such control. Nothing in this paragraph shall be construed as authorizing the director to take control of or exercise the authority provided in this section over the taking of clams from any areas leased from the commonwealth by cities or towns in Essex county as provided in chapter seven hundred and ten of the acts of nineteen hundred and twelve and amendments thereto nor shall such authority extend to the issuance of private shellfish grants as provided in section fifty-seven.

Every city or town which exercises the authority over such coastal fisheries as provided in this section shall set aside an area or areas not then in private control or under municipal cultivation in which the commercial taking of shellfish shall be prohibited and from which shellfish may be taken, for his own family use, by any inhabitant of the commonwealth holding a permit therefor from such city or town. Such permit shall not allow the taking of shellfish of a size at a season prohibited by law and the amount therefor taken for any family shall not exceed in any one week, one bushel of any or all kinds of shellfish, but the councilmen or selectmen, as the case may be, may, with the approval of the director, reduce the maximum amount of any or all of such shellfish taken for such purpose.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to authorize the aldermen, city council, or selectmen to exercise any authority hereunder in areas declared under section seventy-four or under corresponding provisions of earlier laws to be contaminated unless such action is approved in writing by the director.

Section 53. All permits issued under section fifty-two shall be issued in the name of the body authorizing the issuing of the same; but, under a vote of such body, any such permit shall be valid if issued bearing the signature of any one member thereof, or of the city or town clerk. A record of the name, residence and address of every person to whom such a permit is issued, with any special details relating to such permit, shall be entered by the officer issuing the same in a book kept in his office for that purpose.

Section 54. Cities by a vote of the board of aldermen, or city council, and towns by a vote at a town meeting, may appropriate money for the cultivation, propagation and protection of shellfish. The board of aldermen, or city council, or selectmen when so authorized by their town may from time to time declare a close season for any or all kinds of shellfish for not more than three years in such waters, flats or creeks, not then the subject of a private grant, within the limits of their respective cities and towns, as they deem proper, and may plant, grow and protect shellfish in such waters, flats or creeks; provided, that no private rights are impaired; and provided, further, that when any close season, declared as aforesaid, shall have ended, such flats, waters or creeks shall not within two years thereafter be licensed for the private cultivation of shellfish.

Appropriations by cities and towns for cultivation, etc., of shellfish.

Section 55. No permit for the taking of shellfish for commercial purposes shall be issued by the aldermen or councilmen of any city or the selectmen of any town to an alien unless he has resided in such city or town for at least five years next preceding the date of his application therefor, or has been a resident of the county in which such city or town lies for at least five years next preceding the date of such application and has taken shellfish commercially therefrom for such period.

Permits to aliens, when granted.

Section 56. Whenever under the authority of any law two or more municipalities have joint property in, or the right of joint control of, any marine fisheries referred to in section fifty-two, the board of aldermen or city council of the city, or the selectmen of the town if so authorized by the town, in which such fisheries lie may exclusively exercise all the rights, privileges and authority conferred by said section with respect to such fisheries, make appropriations therefor as provided in section fifty-four and exercise such other control, privileges and responsibilities as are granted in other sections of this chapter pertinent thereto, as though such joint control or property did not exist; provided that in the exercise of such rights, privileges, responsibilities and authority such board of aldermen, city council or selectmen shall grant to the citizens of such other municipalities the same rights and privileges as are granted to the citizens of their city or town.

Private Shellfish Grants.

Section 57. The aldermen or city council of any city, or the selectmen of any town when so authorized by their town may, upon written application therefor and after public notice and hearing thereon as provided in section sixty, grant to any person who for at least one year immediately prior to his application has been a registered voter in such city or town, to a firm composed entirely of such persons thereof, or to a corporation the entire capital stock of which is owned by such persons, a license for a period not exceeding five years to plant, grow, dig and take shellfish and to plant shells for the purpose of catching shellfish seed, in such city or town at all times of the year, upon, in or from any waters, flats or creeks below mean high water mark within such city or town at any place where, in the opinion of the aldermen, city council or selectmen, there is no substantial natural shellfish bed, and within the limits specified in the license, except on areas then or within two years prior thereto closed for municipal cultivation under the provisions of section fifty-four. Licenses under this section shall be issued upon forms supplied by such cities and towns and upon such terms and conditions and subject to such regulations as the aldermen, city council or selectmen issuing the same shall deem proper, but not so as to impair the private rights of any person or to materially obstruct navigable waters, and they shall describe by metes and bounds the waters, flats or creeks covered thereby.

Nothing in this section shall be deemed to affect the validity, conditions, or term of any license granted under corresponding provisions of earlier laws and in full force upon the effective date of this section.

Transfer of licenses.

Section 58. Any license granted under section fifty-seven or corresponding provisions of earlier laws may be transferred to any person to whom it might originally have been granted, and, whether or not so transferred, may, within two years before the expiration of its then current term, be renewed for a further term of not exceeding fifteen years from the expiration of the original term. The provisions of this chapter or of corresponding provisions of earlier laws applicable to the original issuance of such license shall, so far as apt, apply to a transfer or a renewal thereof hereunder.

Application
for license.

Section 59. Any person, firm or corporation qualified as provided in section fifty-seven and desiring to obtain a license thereunder shall present to the aldermen or selectmen a written application setting forth the name and residence of the applicant, a reasonably definite description of the desired territory, and a request that the territory be surveyed and a plan thereof made, if the same has not already been done, and that such license be granted to the applicant.

Public hearing on issuance of license.

Section 60. No license referred to in section fifty-seven shall be granted, transferred or renewed until after a public hearing, due notice of which has been posted in three or more public places, and published in a newspaper, if any, published in the city or town where the territory described in the application is situated at least ten days before the time fixed for the hearing, stating the name and residence of the applicant or transferee, as the case may be, the date of the filing of the application for such license, transfer or renewal, and the location, area and description of said territory.

licensed area.

Section 61. Before granting any such license the aldermen, city council or selectmen shall cause to be made a survey and plan of the territory within which such license is to be granted, and, upon granting any such license, shall without charge locate and mark upon the ground the corners of the licensed premises and shall cause to be marked upon a copy of such plan to be kept in the office of the city or town clerk the territory covered by such license. The licensee upon receiving his license shall cause the territory covered thereby to be plainly marked out by monuments, marks or ranges and by stakes or buoys, with the number of his license painted in figures at least two inches in height in a conspicuous place on each of said stakes or buoys or on flags attached thereto, which shall be maintained by him or his transferee during the term of the license or of any renewal thereof. Failure to place or reasonably to maintain the same shall be sufficient cause for revocation of the license.

Records of
licenses, etc.

Section 62. The aldermen, city council or selectmen shall keep in their offices plans showing all such licensed areas, and, in a book devoted to that purpose only, a record of each license granted and of all transfers or renewals thereof, which shall include the name and residence of the licensee or transferee, the dates of issue, transfer, renewal and expiration thereof, and a copy of the description of the licensed areas as the same appears in the license. Each license, and all transfers or renewals thereof, shall forthwith after the granting or approval thereof be transmitted by the board so granting or approving the same to the city or town clerk, who shall record the same in a book kept especially therefor in his office. The licensee or transferee shall within thirty days after such issue or approval pay to said clerk for each license or renewal issued or transfer approved one dollar for such recording, and for each license issued shall also pay four dollars as reimbursement of said city or town for the cost incurred in making such survey and plan and in granting said license, a record of which payment shall forthwith be entered upon said record by said clerk, and such license, transfer or renewal shall not take effect until said fees are paid and entry thereof made as aforesaid. Said records shall be open to public inspection at all reasonable times. Forms for such license and for the transfer or renewal of the same shall be provided by the aldermen, city council or selectmen at the expense of their city or town.

Trespass on
licensed area,
treble damages.

Section 63. The licensee or transferee, or his legal representatives, shall, for the purposes set forth in section fifty-seven and in accord with the terms set forth in said license, have during the term of the license or of any renewal thereof the exclusive use of the waters, flats or creeks described in the license, and the exclusive right to take all shellfish therefrom during the time therein specified, notwithstanding any regulations made by the aldermen, city council or selectmen of the city or town, subsequent to the issuance of such license or to the renewal thereof, as the case may be; provided, that this section shall not be construed to authorize any taking prohibited by law. The licensee or transferee, or his legal representatives, may in tort recover treble damages of any person who without his or their consent, unless otherwise authorized by law or by lawful regulation so to do, digs or takes shellfish of any kind, or shells, from such waters, flats or creeks, or disturbs the same thereon, during the continuance of the license or of any renewal thereof.

Fee for
license.

Section 64. Every such licensee or transferee shall pay to the city or town, on or before a date to be fixed by the aldermen, city council or selectmen, an annual fee of not less than one or more than five dollars per acre, or part thereof. If any such fee is not paid within six months after it becomes due the license shall thereupon be forfeited.

License forfeited, when.

Section 65. Every licensee or transferee of a license referred to in section fifty-seven shall submit on oath on or before October twentieth in each year to the aldermen, city council or selectmen of the city or town wherein the territory covered by the license is situated a report of the total number of bushels of each kind of shellfish planted, produced or marketed during the preceding year upon or from such territory, and an estimate of the total number of bushels of each kind of shellfish at the time of such report planted or growing thereon; and if the total amount then thereon falls below the market value of twenty-five dollars per acre within the first two years of the term of said license, or below the market value of fifty dollars per acre per year for any three consecutive years thereafter, said value to be determined by the aldermen, councilmen or selectmen by such reasonable method as they deem best, they may declare the license to be forfeited; whereupon the licensed premises, with all shellfish then thereon, shall revert to the city or town wherein situated.

Injury to marks or bounds.

Penalty, etc.

Section 66. Whoever wilfully injures, defaces, destroys or removes any mark or bound used to define the extent of any shellfish license or grant, or places any unauthorized mark thereon, or ties or fastens any boat or vessel thereto, shall be punished by a fine of not less than three nor more than twenty dollars and shall be liable in tort for double damages and costs to the licensee or transferee injured by such act.

Unlawful taking of shellfish

premises.

Penalty.

Section 67. Whoever works a dredge, oyster tongs or rakes, or any other implement for the taking of shellfish of any description upon any shellfish grounds or beds covered by a license granted under section fifty-seven or corresponding provisions of earlier laws, or in any way disturbs the growth of the shellfish thereon, or whoever discharges any substance which may directly or indirectly injure the shellfish upon any such grounds or beds, without the consent of the licensee or transferee, as the case may be, or whoever, while upon or sailing over any such grounds or beds, casts, hauls, or has overboard any such dredge, tongs, rake or other implement for the taking of shellfish of any description, under any pretence or for any purpose whatever, without the consent of the licensee or transferee, as the case may be, shall for the first offence be punished by a fine of not more than twenty dollars or by imprisonment for not more than one month, and for a subsequent offence by a fine of not more than fifty dollars or by imprisonment for not more than six months.

Section 68. No person shall dig, take or carry away any shellfish or shells between one half hour after sunset and one half hour before sunrise, by any method whatever, from any waters, flats or creeks as to which a license under section fifty-seven or corresponding provisions of earlier laws is outstanding. A licensee or transferee of such a license violating this section shall, in addition to all other penalties provided, forfeit his license and the shellfish remaining on the licensed premises.

Taking shellfish from licensed premises at night time penalized.

Whoever violates any provision of this section, or whoever, without the consent of the licensee or transferee, digs or takes any shellfish or shells from any waters, flats or creeks described in any license granted under section fifty-seven, or corresponding provisions of earlier laws, during the continuance of such license or of any renewal thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars or by imprisonment for not less than one nor more than six months, or both.

Section 69. Whoever takes or has in possession quahaugs or soft-shelled clams less than two inches in longest diameter, hereinafter referred to as seed quahaugs or seed clams, to the amount of more than five per cent of any batch shall be punished by a fine of not less than five nor more than fifty dollars and imprisonment for thirty days; provided, that it shall not be unlawful to take seed quahaugs or seed clams or have the same in possession under authority of a permit therefor, which the director is hereby authorized to grant, for replanting in waters or flats within the commonwealth.

Seed quahaugs and seed clams, penalty for taking, etc.

Section 70. No person shall take from the flats or coastal waters of the commonwealth scallops other than adult scallops, or sell or offer for sale or have in possession such scallops. For the purposes of this section an adult scallop shall be a scallop with a well-defined raised annual growth line, and any scallop without such line shall be deemed a "seed" scallop. Scallops taken from the coastal waters shall immediately be culled when taken, and all scallops other than adult scallops shall forthwith be returned alive to the coastal waters whence taken; but it shall not be unlawful to sell or have in possession scallops other than adult scallops unavoidably left in the catch after it has been culled, to the amount of not more than five per cent of the total catch remaining. All scallops taken in accordance with this section shall be taken ashore in the shell. This and section seventy-one shall not apply to seed and adult scallops carried by storm or tide from the natural beds and deposited on beaches and flats where, in the opinion of the director, they cannot survive, but the taking of said seed scallops and the taking and sale of said adult scallops may be authorized by him at any season of the year. The director shall promulgate rules and regulations governing the taking and sale of said seed and adult scallops by special permits, which he is empowered to issue without fee, or otherwise so as to prevent the sale of seed scallops at any time, or the sale of adult scallops between April first and the following October first, except as authorized herein. Whoever violates any provision of this section shall be fined not less than ten nor more than fifty dollars and imprisonment for thirty days or both.

Penalty.

Section 71. Except as provided in sections seventy and seventy-three, no person shall take scallops between April first and the following October first from the flats or coastal waters of the commonwealth, or buy or sell or have in possession scallops so taken. Penalty.

Section 72. No person shall for any purpose take more than a total of ten bushels of scallops, including shells, in one day, unless authorized by the director under sections seventy and seventy-three so to do. Whoever violates any provision of this section shall be punished by a fine of not less than ten nor more than fifty dollars and imprisonment for thirty days or both.

of close season,
when granted.

Section 73. The provisions of sections seventy-one and seventy-two in respect to the open and close season, and in respect to the number of scallops that may be taken, may be temporarily modified if, on petition of the aldermen, city council or selectmen to the director, the director after investigation, determines that, owing to unusual circumstances, such modification is expedient. In that case, he may authorize, for a prescribed period, the aldermen, city council or selectmen to issue permits to inhabitants of their respective cities or towns to take scallops in such quantities and at such times as he deems expedient.

Shellfish in Contaminated Areas.

Determination
of contaminated areas.

Publication,
notice, etc.

Section 74. The department of public health shall examine from time to time, or upon the request of the director, the coastal waters and flats of the commonwealth and samples of shellfish therein or thereon in order to determine what areas thereof are so contaminated that shellfish obtained therefrom are unfit for food and dangerous to the public health. If, after such examination, said department determines that such contamination exists, it shall, by written order, promulgate definite bounds of the area or areas so determined to be contaminated. Before such determination shall be in effect, said department shall

(1) Publish the results of its examination and its determination thereto in a newspaper published in each city and town in which or adjacent to which any such contaminated area is situated,

(2) Shall file in the office of the clerk of every such city and town the results of such examination and such determination,

(3) Shall cause to be posted at points on or near every such area a description thereof, specifying said bounds and a statement that such area is contaminated,

(4) Shall notify the director of its determination by filing with him properly authenticated copies, certified by the secretary of state, of its examination, determination, publication, filing and posting. Whenever, as a result of a subsequent examination of an area or areas determined by said department to be contaminated, it determines that the shellfish in such area or areas are safe to use as food, notice of such determination shall be published immediately, and the director notified thereof. The record of any examination hereunder and the bacteriological counts made therein shall be subject to inspection upon request.

Section 75. The director may grant, and may revoke, written permits for the digging or taking of shellfish from an area determined under section seventy-four or corresponding provisions of earlier laws to be contaminated while such determination is in force, every such permit to be upon the express condition, which shall be set forth therein, that all shellfish dug or taken from the area or areas covered by such permit by the holder thereof shall, before being used or disposed of for consumption as food, be purified at a plant approved in writing by the commissioner of public health and upon such further conditions and regulations as will, in the opinion of the director, most effectively prevent the use of said shellfish as food until so purified. For the purpose of this paragraph the director, upon receipt of the proper fees, may issue the following classes of permits: — a master digger's permit for an individual who digs or takes shellfish from such areas for such purification; a digger's permit for an individual who digs shellfish for the holder of a master digger's permit; and a bait permit for an individual who digs and takes shellfish from such areas for bait purposes only; provided, that no person shall be eligible for a bait permit hereunder who has a digger's permit or who sells shellfish for food purposes.

Permits.

Whoever, without a permit as provided in this section or contrary to the provisions of such permit digs or takes shellfish for any purpose from any area determined under section seventy-four or under corresponding provisions of earlier laws to be contaminated, while such determination is in force, or shall knowingly transport or cause to be transported or shall have in possession shellfish so dug or taken, or makes use of such a permit after its revocation or cancellation or wilfully fails to surrender the same at the request of said director shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty nor more than one hundred dollars or by imprisonment for not more than sixty days, or both. rules and regulations of the director made hereunder and to restrain the violation thereof. In any prosecution for a violation of this section the possession, except by a common carrier, of shellfish apparently so dug or taken without a permit herein referred to shall be prima facie evidence of a violation thereof.

Purification Plants.

Construction and maintenance of purification
plants, request for, etc.

Section 76. The aldermen or city council of a city or the selectmen of a town wherein lies any area determined and declared by the department of public health, in accordance with section seventy-four, to be contaminated, or ten per cent of the registered voters in any such city or town, may file a petition with the director, stating that the petitioners deem that the shell fisheries in such area are of sufficient commercial value to warrant the construction and maintenance of a new purification plant, or the maintenance of an existing purification plant.

Upon the filing of such petition or upon his own motion, the director shall forthwith, after public notice and a hearing, determine whether the shellfish in this area, or in such area and such similar areas as might reasonably be served by the same purification plant, are of sufficient commercial value to warrant the construction and maintenance of a new purification plant, or the maintenance of an existing purification plant. If such determination is in the affirmative, he shall prescribe the location and plan of such plant and the limits of the areas to be served thereby, or, as to any such purification plant already in existence, he may approve the location, plan and limits thereof in whole or in part, or prescribe such changes therein as he may deem suitable, and shall request the department of public health to make a determination as is provided in section seventy-seven.

Such city or town may thereupon construct or change such plant as prescribed and approved and may appropriate such sum or sums as may be reasonably necessary therefor, or the director may construct or alter such plant within the limits of appropriations available therefor.

No such plant shall be constructed or operated until approved in writing as to location, plan and operation by the commissioner of public health. The department of public health may from time to time promulgate rules and regulations for the operation of such plants. Said commissioner may suspend such approval at any time, and after a hearing, due notice of which has been given, he may revoke such approval if he is satisfied that there is sufficient evidence of a violation of any conditions upon which such approval was given, or of any rule or regulation promulgated by the department of public health for the operation thereof.

Section 77. Upon receipt of the request provided for in section seventy-six, the department of public health shall, as soon as may be and in such manner as it may deem proper, determine the sources of pollution of the contaminated area or areas referred to therein, and the proportions in which cities and towns within the commonwealth are causing or contributing to the cause of such pollution; provided, that if in any city or town as to which any such proportion is so determined there is a private corporation organized for the purpose of owning and maintaining for profit a system of sewage disposal, said department shall likewise determine whether or not said private corporation is causing or contributing to the cause of the pollution ascribed by the department to such city or town and, if so, in what proportion, and shall forthwith report such determination to the director, who shall thereupon notify each of the cities and towns and private corporations, if any, named in the report of the department of public health as causing or contributing to the pollution of the area or areas in question, and after due notice and hearing, and in such manner as he shall deem just and equitable, allocate the proportion which each of said cities and towns or such private corporation shall bear of the cost of such purification plant as is prescribed or approved under section seventy-six, and the expenses of maintaining such plant thereafter, and shall report his findings to each of said cities and towns. Said report shall be conclusive as to all matters referred to the director and shall be binding upon all parties, but any city or town or other party in interest, may appeal to the supreme judicial court for a review of such report. The court shall have jurisdiction in equity to enforce sections seventy-six to seventy-nine, inclusive.

The provisions of this chapter and regulations made thereunder, unless otherwise specifically provided, shall apply only to fish and fisheries in or taken from the inland waters of the commonwealth.

In construing this chapter, the provisions thereof forbidding possession of various species of fish, birds and mammals during certain periods of the year shall not be held to prohibit a resident of the commonwealth who has lawfully taken, killed or come into possession of such fish, birds or mammals from having the dead bodies or carcasses thereof in possession for his own personal use and not for sale, unless prohibited by federal legislation or regulation so to do, but the burden shall be on him to prove that such possession was lawful in its origin; nor shall they be held to prohibit a person from bringing into this commonwealth, for his own personal use and not for sale, the dead bodies or carcasses of fish, birds or mammals which were lawfully taken or killed in another state, province or country, or from having such fish, birds or mammals in possession for the aforesaid purpose after the arrival thereof in this commonwealth, in either event unless prohibited by federal legislation or regulation so to do, if before any such fish, birds or mammals are so imported they are tagged or marked in accordance with the laws of such other state, province or country and with the federal laws relative to interstate commerce, and if no more such fish, birds or mammals are imported at one time than is permitted by the laws of such other state, province or country to be exported therefrom; but the burden shall be on such person to prove that such possession was lawful in its origin.

license after hearing, etc.

Section 2. Licenses, other than hunting, fishing and trapping licenses, issued by the director under any provision of this chapter, and permits and certificates of registration so issued, may, after a hearing, due notice of which shall have been given, be suspended or revoked for cause by him, shall not be transferable, and shall be produced for examination upon the demand of any authorized person.

Disposition of certain
fines, etc.

Section 3. All fines, penalties and forfeitures recovered in prosecutions under the laws relative to birds and mammals, and relative to fish, all as defined in section one, shall be equally divided between the county where such prosecution is made and the city or town where the offence is committed; provided, that if the prosecuting officer is a conservation officer or member of the state police receiving compensation from the commonwealth, such fines, penalties and forfeitures shall be paid to the commonwealth.

Section 4. The director, conservation officers, deputies and wardens may, in the performance of their duties, enter upon and pass through or over private lands, whether or not covered by water.

Section 5. Except as provided in section ten, sixty, sixty-one, sixty-four, sixty-seven, sixty-nine or seventy-nine, no person shall hunt any bird or mammal, and no person, unless he is under fifteen years of age, shall fish, except as hereinafter provided, in any of the inland waters of the commonwealth, and no person shall use, set, tend or maintain any trap, or take or attempt to take any mammal by means thereof, without first having obtained a sporting, hunting, fishing or trapping license, or a special fox-hunting license issued under section nine, as the case may be, authorizing him to do so, as provided in sections six to nine, inclusive; provided, that nothing in sections five to fourteen, inclusive, shall be construed as affecting in any way the general laws relating to trespass, or as authorizing the hunting, or the possession, of birds or mammals, contrary to law, or the taking of fish, or the possession thereof, contrary to law, or the trapping of mammals, contrary to law; and provided, further, that said sections five to fourteen, inclusive, shall not be deemed to prohibit any legal resident of the commonwealth or any member of his immediate family, residing on land owned or leased by him, from hunting or trapping on such land or from fishing in any inland waters bordered by such land if he is or they are actually domiciled thereon, and if the land is used exclusively for agricultural purposes, and not for club, shooting or fishing purposes; and provided, further, that the burden of proof shall rest upon the person claiming any such exception to show that he is entitled thereto.

Section 6. Upon the application of any person entitled to receive a sporting, hunting, fishing or trapping license and upon payment of the fee specified therefor in this chapter and the furnishing of an affidavit by any non-resident desiring to be classified under clause (1) of section eight, the director or the clerk of any city or town shall issue to such person a sporting, hunting, fishing or trapping license, as the case may be, in the form prescribed upon a blank furnished by the division. Subject to existing laws, a sporting license shall authorize the licensee to hunt birds and mammals and to fish, a fishing license shall authorize the licensee to fish only, a hunting license shall authorize the licensee to hunt only, and a trapping license shall authorize the licensee to trap mammals only. Each license issued hereunder shall bear, in addition to any other data, the name, place of residence, citizenship, birthplace, signature and identifying description and the age of the licensee, a statement that the holder has not been found guilty of, or convicted of or penalized in any manner for, a violation of this chapter or any provision thereof, or of any corresponding provision of earlier laws, within one year of the date of the license, and each applicant shall furnish such information to the director or the city or town clerk issuing such license. Each license shall be valid for use to and including the following December thirty-first, unless sooner revoked. No person holding a sporting, hunting, fishing or trapping license shall transfer or loan such license, and every holder thereof shall, while fishing, hunting or trapping, carry upon his person his license authorizing him so to do and shall produce it for examination upon the demand of any conservation officer, deputy, warden, or other officer qualified to serve criminal process, or upon the demand of an owner or lessee of land upon which the licensee is fishing, hunting or trapping, or upon the demand of the agent of such owner or lessee. Whoever, upon such demand, fails or refuses to produce a license authorizing him so to fish, hunt or trap, as the case may be, or whoever for the purpose of procuring any such license falsely makes any representation or statement required by this section, shall be punished by a fine of not less than ten nor more than fifty dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than one month, or both.

The city or town clerk shall on the first Monday of each month forward such reports to the director. Section 9. A non-resident member or non-resident invited guest of a club or association conducting fox hunts within the commonwealth may procure a special fox-hunting license authorizing him, for periods not exceeding, in the aggregate, six days within any year and during regular fox hunts conducted by such club or association, to hunt foxes only. City or town clerk's fee.

Section 11. Any city or town clerk issuing any license under authority of any provision of this chapter may, except as otherwise provided by law, retain for his own use twenty-five cents from the fee for each such license; provided, that if no fee is required to be paid for the issuance of a license, or in case of the issuance of a duplicate license, the clerk shall make no charge for the issuance thereof or retain no part of the fee therefor, as the case may be.

Section 13. The director and the clerk of every city and town shall make a record, in books kept therefor, of all licenses issued by them, respectively, and shall date each license as of the date of issue; and, except as hereinafter provided, no other date shall be placed on such license. Such books shall be supplied by the division, shall be the property of the commonwealth, shall be open to public inspection during the usual office hours of the clerk or the director, as the case may be, and shall be subject at all times to audit and inspection by the director, by the state auditor or by the comptroller or by their respective agents. All such remittances shall be by check, United States post office money order, express money order, or in lawful money of the United States. Every such clerk shall, within thirty days next succeeding January first in each year, return to the division all license books received during the year preceding, including all stubs and void and unused licenses. Any such clerk violating any provision of this section shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment for not less than one month nor more than one year, or both.

Nothing herein shall be construed to prohibit the sale of licenses during the month of December in any year to be valid for use only on and after January first next succeeding. Any license so sold shall have the date of sale endorsed thereon.

Section 14. The director may: —

Duties and powers of director.

Destroy from time to time license books, stubs, licenses and license blanks after the same have been properly audited by the state auditor, and such other documents as the director deems advisable after the same have been noted on the official records;

Take, or in writing authorize his agents to take, fish, birds or mammals at any time or in any manner for purposes connected with propagation or scientific observation or for the control of any fish, birds or mammals which are or may be detrimental to property or to other useful wildlife;

Investigate questions relating to fish, birds or mammals and, personally or by assistants, institute and conduct inquiries pertaining to such questions and conduct such biological research as will, in his opinion, tend to conserve, improve and increase the supply of fish, birds and mammals;

For the purpose of providing public fishing grounds, acquire by gift and in his discretion acquire by lease or purchase, fishing rights and privileges in any brook or stream, or in any pond other than a great pond, in the commonwealth, or acquire by gift, lease or purchase lands necessary for such purposes, except a brook, stream or pond which is the source of or a tributary to a public water supply, and also acquire by gift, lease or purchase lands necessary for such purposes, together with such rights of ingress to and egress from such a brook, stream or pond as may be necessary or proper;

Make rules and regulations relative to fishing in any water acquired under authority of this section, such rules and regulations being subject to section thirty-seven of chapter thirty; provide a penalty, consisting of a fine not to exceed twenty dollars, for any violation of any such rule or regulation, and from time to time close or open such waters, or any part thereof, for fishing;

If in his opinion the presence in any great pond or in waters acquired hereunder for public fishing grounds of any species of fish having destructive proclivities toward trout or salmon constitutes a hindrance or detriment to the promotion and development of trout or salmon fishing therein, by order, suspend, with respect to such waters, the operation of any or all provisions of law establishing close seasons on such species of fish having such destructive proclivities and regulating the number and length of fish of such species that may be lawfully taken or had in possession. Any such suspension shall become effective upon the filing of the order of suspension in the office of the director, but no such suspension shall be terminated until after notice of such termination has been conspicuously posted on the shores of such waters and filed with the clerk of each city and town bordering thereon;

With the approval of the riparian owners and all persons owning any right of fishing in the waters affected, establish restricted areas in any non-navigable brook or stream, or portion thereof, or in any pond other than a great pond, or portion thereof, when, in his opinion, such brook, stream or pond, or portion thereof, is a suitable area for the breeding of fish, and make rules and regulations for the taking of fish within such area;

Screen such of said ponds, brooks and streams in the commonwealth not used as sources of water supply by cities and towns as he deems necessary for the protection of fish therein, except that mercantile and manufacturing rights existing on April thirtieth, nineteen hundred and twenty, shall not be affected;

Cause any great pond, except in Dukes and Nantucket counties, to be stocked or restocked with such fish as he judges best suited to the waters thereof, and in every such instance he may prescribe and enforce such reasonable regulations relative to fishing in the pond or its tributaries, or both, with such penalties, not exceeding twenty dollars for each offence, as he deems for the public interest, but this paragraph shall not apply to ponds used as sources of public water supply;

Except in Dukes and Nantucket counties, cause any natural or artificial pond, other than a great pond, or any brook or stream, to be stocked or restocked with such fish as he judges best suited to the waters thereof; provided, that in respect to privately owned ponds such stocking shall only be with the written consent of the owner or lessee thereof, and shall not prevent such owner or lessee from drawing down or making such use of said waters for commercial or other purposes as appear to him to be advisable; and provided, further, that such stocking shall not prohibit such owner or lessee from excluding the public from such waters if and when this action appears to him necessary for the proper control and utilization thereof;

At any time in any inland waters where the loss of fish from any cause is apparent, salvage such fish for distribution, and, with the approval in each instance of the commissioner of public health, from time to time, by seine, trap or other method, remove fish from any reservoir used as a source of public water supply when permitted by the proper authorities in charge, for the purpose of stocking or restocking any inland waters of the commonwealth wherein any holder of a sporting or fishing license issued under this chapter is entitled to fish;

For the purpose of breeding and developing trout, establish restricted areas in the Deerfield river or the Millers river or their diverted waters within the commonwealth, and, subject to approval by the governor and council, make rules and regulations for the taking of fish within such area.

Section 15. Except as prohibited or limited by federal legislation or regulation, any person who holds a sporting, hunting, fishing, trapping or special fox-hunting license issued to him as a non-resident may carry from the commonwealth such fish, birds or mammals as have been lawfully taken within the commonwealth, but no person shall transport or cause to be transported into or out of the commonwealth any fish, birds or mammals protected by this chapter which have been unlawfully taken or killed therein.

Non-resident licensees may carry from state fish, etc., lawfully taken.

Section 16. Unless otherwise specifically provided by law, every license, permit and certificate issued under any provision of this chapter held by any person found guilty of, or convicted of, or penalized in any manner for, a violation of any provision of this chapter, or of corresponding provisions of earlier laws, or of any rule or regulation made under authority thereof, shall be void, and shall immediately be surrendered to any officer authorized to enforce this chapter. No person shall be given a license, permit or certificate under authority of any provision of this chapter during the period of one year from the date of his being found guilty or penalized as aforesaid, and any such license, permit or certificate so issued shall be void and shall be surrendered on demand of any officer authorized to enforce said chapter. No fee received for a license, permit or certificate made void under this section shall be refunded to the holder thereof.

Revocation of license for violations of provisions of chapter.

Section 17. Whoever violates any provision of sections five to sixteen, inclusive, or of this section, for which no specific penalty is provided, or is directly or indirectly a party to any such violation, shall be punished by a fine of not less than ten nor more than fifty dollars or by imprisonment for not more than one month, or both.

Each warden, when on duty, shall wear and display a metallic badge bearing the seal of the commonwealth and the words "fish and game warden." Forfeiture of fish, etc.

Section 22. The director, any conservation officer or any member of the state police to whom a warrant issued under section twenty-three is committed shall search the place described in the warrant and seize the fish, birds or mammals therein described, and such fish, birds or mammals, if unlawfully taken or held, shall be forfeited to the commonwealth; provided, that this section and section twenty-three shall not apply to fish, birds or mammals passing through the commonwealth under authority of the laws of the United States. Fish, birds, or mammals so seized shall be preserved whenever in the opinion of the director, or his agent thereunto duly authorized, proper facilities therefor exist until such time as, in the opinion of the director, the necessity for further preservation thereof has ceased, at which time said fish, birds or mammals may be disposed of by the director for the best interests of the commonwealth.

Section 23. A court or official authorized to issue warrants in criminal cases shall, upon a sworn complaint that the complainant believes that any fish, birds or mammals unlawfully taken or possessed are concealed in any boat, vehicle, car, box, locker, crate, package, building or other particular place, other than a dwelling house, within its or his jurisdiction, if satisfied that there is reasonable cause for such belief, issue a warrant to search therefor. The warrant shall designate and describe the place to be searched and the articles for which search is to be made and, if possible, the person by whom the articles are believed to be owned, kept or possessed, and shall be directed to any officer named in section twenty-two commanding him to search the place where the fish, birds or mammals for which he is required to search are believed to be concealed, and to seize such fish, birds or mammals.

Section 25. The director may establish and maintain properties at such places within the commonwealth as he may select for the purpose of propagating and rearing fish, birds and mammals.

Establishment of properties for propagation of fish, etc.

Nothing in this chapter shall be deemed to prohibit the director from disposing, through sale or exchange, of mammals, birds, birds' eggs, fish spawn, fish fry, or other fish, for the best interests of the commonwealth in connection with propagation.

Section 26. Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, no person shall be provided by the director with fish or fish spawn to stock waters owned or leased by such person or under his control unless he first agrees in writing with the director that waters so stocked shall be free for the public to lawfully fish therein; and the public may thereafter fish in such waters.

Illegal entry upon property set apart for scientific purposes.

Section 28. If the director determines that the fisheries of any inland waters of the commonwealth are of sufficient value to warrant the prohibition or regulation of the discharge or escape of sawdust, shavings, garbage, ashes, acids, oil, sewage, dyestuffs, or other waste material from any saw-mill, manufacturing or mechanical plant, or dwelling house, stable or other building, which may, directly or indirectly, materially injure such fisheries, he shall by a written order sent by mail to or served upon the owner or tenant thereof prohibit or regulate the discharge or escape therefrom of any or all such injurious substances into such inland waters. Such order shall take effect in ten days after its date and may be revoked or modified by the director at any time. Before any such order is made the director shall, after reasonable notice to all parties in interest, give a public hearing in

If such petition is filed by the party aggrieved within ten days after the date of said order, said order shall not take effect, unless such petition shall be dismissed, until altered or affirmed as aforesaid. Whoever, in violation of any order of the director, of which he has had due notice hereunder and which has taken effect, or in violation of any order of said court made hereunder, discharges from such plant or building under his control any of the aforesaid materials, the discharge of which therefrom is forbidden by such order, or suffers or permits the same to be discharged or to escape from such plant or building, into any inland waters of the commonwealth, shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty nor more than two hundred dollars.

Except in case of emergency imperiling life or property or of unavoidable accident, whoever from any sources other than those designated in section twenty-eight puts, throws, discharges or suffers or permits to be discharged or to escape into any inland waters of the commonwealth any oil, or any poisonous or other substance, whether simple, mixed or compound, which may directly or indirectly materially injure the fish or fish spawn therein, or takes any such fish by such means, or whoever kills or destroys fish in such waters by the use of dynamite or other explosives, or takes any such fish in such waters by such means, or explodes dynamite or other explosive in such waters, or dumps, throws, places or authorizes or orders the dumping, throwing or placing tin cans or rubbish in any brook or stream, shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty nor more than five hundred dollars or by imprisonment for not more than one year. This section shall not apply to operations of the United States or of the commonwealth or of a political subdivision thereof, nor to operations authorized or permitted thereby, nor to the use of explosives for raising the body of a drowned person.

Whoever, contrary to any provision of this section or section twenty-eight, himself, or by his agent or servant, does, or allows or suffers to be done, any act causing damage to the fisheries therein named shall be liable in tort, in twice the amount of damage thereby done, to the city or town wherein such damage occurs, on account of any injury to the public fisheries within its limits, and to any person having fishery rights therein, on account of any injury to his private fishery rights.

if need be, at the expense of the person using and maintaining the same, all illegal obstructions to the passage of anadromous fish coming into fresh water to spawn; provided, that the foregoing shall not authorize the seizure or removal of dams, mills or machinery. The director may examine all dams or obstructions upon brooks, rivers and streams where the law requires fish ways to be maintained, or where in his judgment fish ways are needed for such fish, and he shall determine whether the fish ways, if any, are suitable and sufficient for the passage of such fish in such brooks, rivers and streams or whether a fish way is needed for the passage of such fish over such dam or obstruction; and shall prescribe by written order what changes or repairs, if any, shall be made therein, and where, how and when a new fish way shall be built, and at what times the same shall be kept open, and shall serve a copy of such order upon the owner of, or person using or maintaining, the dam or obstruction. A certificate of the director that service has been so made shall be sufficient proof thereof. Penalty for
fish way open.

Section 32. If the director deems that a passage for anadromous fish should be provided, or if he finds that there is no fish way or an insufficient fish way in or around a dam or obstruction where a fish way is required by law to be maintained, he may enter with workmen and materials upon the premises of the person required to maintain a fish way there and may, at the expense of the commonwealth, if in his opinion the person required by law to construct or maintain such fish way is unable to afford such expense, otherwise at the expense of the owner of, or the person using or maintaining, such dam, improve an existing fish way, or cause one to be constructed if none exists, and may, if necessary, take the land of any other person who is not obliged by law to maintain said fish way; and if a fish way has been constructed in accordance with this section he shall not require the owner of, or the person using or maintaining, the dam to alter such fish way within five years after its completion.

Improvement
or construction of fish
ways, etc.

Section 33. All damages caused by taking land under section thirty-two shall, upon the application of either party, be recovered from the commonwealth under chapter seventy-nine. The amount so recovered shall be a charge against the person required by law to construct and maintain such fish way and shall be recovered in contract in the name of the commonwealth, with costs and with interest at the rate of twelve per cent per annum.

As soon as the fire hazard is deemed to be over the governor, for the purpose of providing just and reasonable facilities for hunting, trapping and fishing, in like manner and with like advice and consent, may extend any such open season for a period or periods not exceeding, in the aggregate, the time of such suspension, and if by reason of any such extension such open season in whole or in part coincides with any other open season in such manner as to cause any conflict in the laws relating thereto, he may, in like manner and with like advice and consent, postpone such other open season for such time as may be necessary to avoid such conflict.

Every such proclamation shall take effect as therein stated. A proclamation issued under this section shall be published in such newspapers or posted in such places and in such manner under the direction of the department as the governor may order; but failure to comply with this paragraph shall not in any way invalidate any proclamation made under authority of this section. Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section nine of chapter three of the General Laws, as most recently amended by section one of chapter three hundred and seven of the acts of nineteen hundred and forty-one, is hereby further amended by inserting after the word "session" in the twenty-second line the words: — , or eight hundred dollars if such session continues beyond July first, — so as to read as follows:— Section 9. Each member of the general court shall receive, for the regular session, twenty-five hundred dollars, and also four dollars and twenty cents for every mile of ordinary traveling distance from his place of abode to the place of sitting of the general court. and in case a surplus should remain after payment for such new construction the water rates shall be reduced proportionately. All authority vested in said commissioners by the foregoing provisions of this section shall be subject to section fourteen. THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, STATE HOUSE,
BOSTON, August 21, 1941.

Honorable FREDERIC W. COOK, Secretary of the Commonwealth, State House, Boston, Massachusetts.

SIR: — I, Leverett Saltonstall, by virtue of and in accordance with the provisions of the Forty-eighth Amendment to the Constitution, "The Referendum II, Emergency Measures", do declare that in my opinion, the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, safety, and convenience requires that the law passed on the twenty-first day of August in the year nineteen hundred and forty-one, entitled, "An Act to make records relating to old age assistance, aid to dependent children and aid to the blind confidential, to prohibit the misuse of such records, to create a penalty for such misuse and to provide that the laws concerning the confidential nature of such records may be extended to apply to records relating to general public assistance" should take effect forthwith, that it is an emergency law and that the facts constituting the emergency are as follows:

For the reason that otherwise this law would not take effect until ninety days from its passage and would, therefore, cause undue hardship as there are substantial contributions by the Federal Government that are being withheld until this Act becomes law in Massachusetts.

Very respectfully yours,

LEVERETT SALTONSTALL,
Governor of the Commonwealth.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY, BOSTON, August 21, 1941.

I hereby certify that the accompanying statement was filed in this office by His Excellency the Governor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts at three o'clock and twenty minutes, P.M., on the above date, and in accordance with Article Forty-eight of the Amendments to the Constitution said chapter takes effect forthwith, being chapter six hundred and thirty of the acts of nineteen hundred and forty-one.

PAUL D. HOWARD,
Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Chap. 631 AN ACT FURTHER EXTENDING THE TERM OF OFFICE OF THE MILK CONTROL BOARD.

Emergency
preamble.

Whereas, Under existing provisions of law the existence of the milk control board will terminate on August thirty-first, nineteen hundred and forty-one, but it is necessary that the provisions of this act take effect on or before said August thirty-first, so that the existence of said board may be continued for a further period of three months without interruption; therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Section twenty-two of chapter three hundred and seventy-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-four, as most recently amended by section one of chapter four hundred and eighteen of the acts of nineteen hundred and forty-one, is hereby further amended by striking out, in the third line, the words "August thirty-first" and inserting in place thereof the words:— November thirtieth, — so as to read as follows:— Section 22. The board shall continue with all the duties and responsibilities prescribed and imposed by this act until November thirtieth, nineteen hundred and forty-one. On and after the date when this act ceases to be operative any and all obligations which shall have arisen prior to such date or which may arise thereafter in connection therewith, and any violations which shall have occurred prior to such date, shall be deemed not to be affected, terminated or waived by reason of the fact that this act has ceased to be operative.

SECTION 2. The milk control board may continue expenditures in each of the months of September, October and November in the current year at the monthly rate authorized by appropriations made for the current fiscal year by items 0906-01 and 0906-02 of the general appropriation act of the current year, until the general court makes an appropriation for expenditures by said board during said months of September, October and November.

Approved August 29, 1941.

AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA TO BUILD A BRIDGE WITHOUT A DRAW IN AND OVER THE TIDE
WATERS OF HINGHAM BAY FROM HOG ISLAND TO THE MAIN-LAND IN THE TOWN OF HULL. Chap. 632

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose which is to grant the consent of the commonwealth to the construction of a bridge without a draw, as a part of a project for national defense, therefore, it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public safety. Emergency preamble.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The United States of America is hereby authorized to construct and maintain a bridge without a draw in and over the tide waters of Hingham bay from Hog island to the mainland in the town of Hull, subject to chapter ninety-one of the General Laws, upon the condition that the federal government provides an adequate channel from the pier at Windemere to the waters of Hingham bay easterly of said island in the town of Hull.

SECTION 2. Jurisdiction over said bridge is hereby granted and ceded to the United States of America, but upon the express condition that the commonwealth shall retain concurrent jurisdiction with the United States of America in and over the bridge so acquired, in so far that all civil processes, and such criminal processes as may issue under the authority of the commonwealth against any person or persons charged with crimes committed elsewhere than on said bridge and all processes for the collection of taxes levied under authority of the laws of the commonwealth, including the service of warrants, may be executed thereon in the same manner as though this consent and cession had not been granted; and exclusive jurisdiction over any such bridge or any part thereof shall revert in the commonwealth whenever it shall cease to be used by the United States for the purposes specified in section one.

Approved October 8, 1941.

Chap.633 AN ACT FURTHER ESTABLISHING THE BASIS OF APPORTIONMENT OF STATE AND COUNTY TAXES.

Emergency
preamble.

Whereas, It is essential in some instances respecting the determination of the municipal tax rates and in other instances in respect to highway and other work that any new basis of apportionment of the state and county taxes be fixed promptly and the deferred operation of this act would cause great inconvenience in respect to tax rates and highway construction, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter one hundred and forty-one of the acts of the current year is hereby amended by striking out all after the words "to wit:" in the tenth line and inserting in place thereof the following:—

Said town shall not enter upon, construct or lay any conduits, pipes or other works within the location of any railroad corporation except at such time and in such manner as it may agree upon with such corporation, or, in case of failure so to agree, as may be approved by the department of public utilities. The board of water commissioners may establish rules and regulations for the management of its water works, not inconsistent with this act or with any other provisions of law.

SECTION 4. Any person or corporation injured in his or its property by any action of said town or board under this act may recover damages from said town under said chapter seventy-nine or said chapter eighty A; provided, that the right to damages for the taking of any water, water source or water right, or any injury thereto, shall not vest until the water is actually withdrawn or diverted by said town under authority of this act.

SECTION 5. Said town, for the purpose of paying the necessary expenses and liabilities incurred or to be incurred under this act, other than expenses of maintenance and operation, may issue from time to time bonds or notes to an amount not exceeding, in the aggregate, one hundred and fifteen thousand dollars, which shall bear on their face the words, Town of Newbury Water Loan, Act of 1941. Each authorized issue shall constitute a separate loan, and such loans shall be payable in not more than thirty years from their dates. Indebtedness incurred under this act shall be subject to chapter forty-four of the General Laws.

SECTION 6. Said town shall, at the time of authorizing said loan or loans, provide for the payment thereof in accordance with section five; and, when a vote to that effect has been passed, a sum which, with the income derived from the water rates, will be sufficient to pay the annual expense of operating its water works, and the interest as it accrues on the bonds or notes issued as aforesaid, and to make such payments on the principal as may be required under this act, shall without further vote be assessed by the assessors of said town annually thereafter in the same manner as other taxes, until the debt incurred by the said loan or loans is extinguished.

SECTION 7. Whoever wilfully or wantonly corrupts, pollutes or diverts any of the waters taken or held under this act, or injures any structure, work or other property owned, held or used by said town under the authority and for any of the purposes of this act, shall forfeit and pay to said town three times the amount of damages assessed therefor, to be recovered in an action of tort; and upon conviction of any one of the above wilful or wanton acts shall be punished by a fine of not more than three hundred dollars or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

SECTION 8. The selectmen of said town shall serve as water commissioners until the election and qualification of water commissioners. Whenever the phrase "board of water commissioners" or "board" or "commissioners" occurs in this act it shall mean and include the board of water commissioners or the selectmen acting as such, as the case may be. Said town may, at an annual town meeting or at any special meeting held not less than thirty days prior to an annual town meeting, vote to elect at the next annual town meeting a board of three water commissioners; and if the town so votes it shall at such next annual town meeting elect by ballot three persons to hold office as members of said board for one, two and three years, respectively, from such meeting, and until their successors are qualified; and thereafter at each annual town meeting the town shall elect one such member to hold office for three years and until his successor is qualified. All the authority granted to the town by this act, except sections five and six, and not otherwise specially provided for, shall be vested in said board of water commissioners, who shall be subject, however, to such instructions, rules and regulations as said town may impose by its vote. A majority of said commissioners shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. After the election of a board of water commissioners under authority of this section, any vacancy occurring in said board from any cause may be filled for the remainder of the unexpired term by said town at any legal town meeting called for the purpose. Any such vacancy may be filled temporarily in the manner provided by section eleven of chapter forty-one of the General Laws, and the person so appointed shall perform the duties of the office until the next annual meeting of said town or until another person is qualified.

SECTION 9. Said commissioners shall fix just and equitable prices and rates for the use of water, and shall prescribe the time and manner of payment. The income of the water works shall be appropriated to defray all operating expenses, interest charges and payments on the principal as they accrue upon any bonds or notes issued under authority of this act. If there should be a net surplus remaining after providing for the aforesaid charges, it may be appropriated for such new construction as the water commissioners, with the approval of the town, may determine upon, and in case a surplus should remain after payment for such new construction the water rates shall be reduced proportionately. Said commissioners shall annually, and as often as the town may require, render a report upon the condition of the works under their charge, and an account of their doings, including an account of the receipts and expenditures.

SECTION 10. This act shall take full effect upon its acceptance by a majority of the voters of the town of Newbury present and voting thereon at a town meeting called for the purpose within four years after its passage, but not otherwise; but the number of meetings so called in any year shall not exceed three.

Approved October 8, 1941.

petitioning that all the members of any particular elective body as to which this chapter applies, specified in the petition, to be composed of any odd number of members not more than fifteen in a city, or any number then permitted by law in a town, which is specified therein, be elected at large by proportional representation, or that any particular elective officer, specified therein, be elected by preferential voting, and that the question of adopting the proposed change be submitted to the voters of such city or town at a regular municipal election, as specified therein, may be filed with the city or town clerk not later than sixty days prior to such a municipal election; provided, that this section shall not authorize the filing of a petition for the submission of such a question relative to a body or officer except at the regular municipal election next preceding a regular municipal election at which successors to one or more members of such a body are to be elected or a successor to such officer is to be elected, as the case may be; and provided, further, that this section shall not authorize the submission of such a question relative to any body the members of which are already authorized to be elected by proportional representation.

The city or town clerk shall prescribe the form of the aforesaid petitions which shall conform to the provisions of section thirty-eight of chapter forty-three relative to initiative petitions in cities governed by said chapter.

Within twenty days after the filing of any such petition, the city or town clerk shall transmit the same to the registrars of voters who shall certify upon such petition the number of signatures which are names of registered voters in such city or town; provided, that the registrars need not certify a greater number of names than is equal in number to twelve per cent of the registered voters therein.

If such a petition, signed by the requisite number of voters of a city or town and otherwise conforming to the provisions of this section, is filed with the city or town clerk and the signatures thereon certified as hereinbefore required, there shall be printed on the official ballot to be used in such city or town at the election specified in such petition, the question of the adoption of the change petitioned for, in the form set forth in the first of the following questions, in case the change will affect an elective body or in the form set forth in the second, in case it will affect an elective officer, the blanks in either such question to be properly filled in:—

(1) Referendum on the election at large by proportional representation of the members of (insert name of the elective body specified in the petition) of the (city or town) of

Shall the (insert name of the elective body specified in the petition) of this (city or town) be elected by proportional representation as authorized in chapter fifty-four A of the General Laws, said body to consist of (insert number) members, all to be elected at large?

(2) Referendum on the election by preferential voting of (insert title of the elective officer specified in the petition) of the (city or town) of

Shall the (insert title of the elective officer specified in the petition) of this (city or town) be elected by preferential voting as authorized in chapter fifty-four A of the General Laws?

YES.	<input type="checkbox"/>
NO.	<input type="checkbox"/>

If, pending the determination of the question of electing by proportional representation the members of any elective body proposed by a petition already filed under this section, a petition presenting the question of so electing the members of such body but specifying a different number of members shall be presented for filing with a city or town clerk, no action shall be taken upon the later petition except to file it, until after the submission to a vote of the question proposed by the earlier petition. Should the result of such vote be adverse thereto, proceedings shall then be had upon the later petition as though it had been filed upon the day when such vote on the earlier petition was cast.

If a majority of the votes cast upon any such question relative to a body or officer of a city or town is in the affirmative the following provisions of this chapter, so far as apt, shall apply with respect to such body or officer and shall become operative with respect to the regular municipal election of such city or town next succeeding the vote on such question; provided, that if the terms of all members of such a body in office immediately preceding such election will not so expire that successors to all the members will be required by law to be elected at such election, the operation of such provisions shall be suspended and, as the terms of the members so in office, other than those having the longest unexpired terms, expire, their successors shall be elected, by the voting system then in effect, to serve only for terms of such length that the terms of all members so in office will expire at the same time.

At the regular municipal election immediately preceding the termination of the terms of all members of such a body, the full number of its members as specified in the question shall be elected at large, to serve for terms of the same length as the longest term then established for any of its members, by proportional representation and in accordance with the provisions of law governing elections to such body which are not inconsistent with this chapter, and thereafter as the terms of the members so elected expire their successors shall be elected in the same manner and, except as otherwise provided by chapter forty-one in the case of a town, for the same terms.

At the regular municipal election immediately preceding the termination of the term of such an elective officer, his successor shall be elected, for the same term of office as then provided by law, by preferential voting and in accordance with the provisions of law governing elections to such office which are not inconsistent with this chapter.

If, pending the determination of the question of the adoption of one of the plans provided for by chapter forty-three, which has already been filed, a petition under this chapter shall be presented for filing with the city clerk, no action shall be taken upon the petition under this chapter, except to file it, until after the submission to a vote of the question proposed by the earlier petition. Should the result of such vote be adverse thereto, proceedings shall then be had upon the petition under this chapter as though it had been filed on the day when such vote on the earlier petition was cast.

(a) Graduation from a college or university authorized by the general court to grant degrees of bachelor of science in engineering or the equivalent, or graduation from an engineering curriculum of four years or more accredited by Engineers Council for Professional Development in a school or college approved by the board as of satisfactory standing; and a specific record of an additional four years or more of experience in engineering work of a character satisfactory to the board, and indicating that the applicant is competent to practice professional engineering; or

(b) Successfully passing a written, or written and oral, examination designed to show knowledge and skill approximating that attained through graduation from an approved four-year engineering curriculum; and a specific record of eight years or more of experience in engineering work of a character satisfactory to the board and indicating that the applicant is competent to practice professional engineering; or

(c) A specific record of twelve years or more of lawful practice in professional engineering work of a character satisfactory to the board and indicating that the applicant is qualified to design or to supervise construction of engineering works; provided, that the applicant shall be not less than thirty-five years of age.

In counting years of experience under (1) (a), the board may give credit, but not in excess of one year, for satisfactory graduate study in engineering.

(2) As a land surveyor: —

Graduation in a curriculum other than engineering from a college or university of recognized standing may be considered as equivalent to two years of experience in this section; provided, that no applicant shall receive credit for more than four years of experience because of undergraduate educational qualifications.

The mere execution, as a contractor, of work designed by a professional engineer, or the supervision of the construction of such work as a foreman or superintendent, shall not be deemed to be practice in professional engineering.

If examinations are required on fundamental engineering subjects, such as are ordinarily given in college curricula, the applicant shall be permitted to take this part of the professional examination prior to his completion of the requisite years of experience in engineering work, and satisfactory passage of this portion of the professional examination by the applicant shall constitute a credit for a period of ten years.

The scope of the examinations and the methods of procedure shall be prescribed by the board with special reference to the applicant's ability to design and supervise engineering works so as to insure the safety of life, health and property. Examinations for the purpose of determining the qualifications of applicants for registration in professional engineering and in land surveying shall be given separately. A candidate failing on his first examination, upon application therefor not less than six months thereafter shall be entitled to be re-examined without payment of any additional fee, but no further or subsequent examination of the same candidate shall be given except upon payment of a fee of fifteen dollars. Emergency preamble.

Whereas, The deferment of the operation of this act for ninety days after its passage would postpone its operation until after January first, nineteen hundred and forty-two, and thereby would give rise to doubt and confusion as to the method of taxation of land which on said January first was subject to taxation under chapter fifty-nine of the General Laws and thereafter became subject to taxation under this act, and would either cause inconvenience in the classification of such land under this act or defer such classification for an inconveniently long period, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Ed.), 61,

ter 61, inserted.

SECTION 1. The General Laws are hereby amended by striking out chapter sixty-one, as amended, and inserting in place thereof the following chapter: —

CHAPTER 61.

CLASSIFICATION AND TAXATION OF FOREST LANDS AND FOREST PRODUCTS.

Classification
of forest land.
Hearings, etc.

Section 1. All forest land, not used for grazing and other purposes incompatible with forest production, having a value not in excess of twenty-five dollars per acre for land and growth thereon, shall be tentatively listed by the assessors as classified forest land; provided, that the owner, by written notification filed with the assessors within thirty days after he has been notified that the land has been listed as classified forest land as hereinafter provided, may elect not to have his land so classified, and in such event such land shall continue to be assessed under chapter fifty-nine and not under this chapter; but such election shall not prevent the listing of the land as classified forest land in a subsequent year, subject to similar right of election. If after such listing and notification by the assessors the owner does not exercise his right of election as herein provided, the land tentatively listed as classified forest land shall be deemed to be classified forest land as of January first in the year of classification and shall thereafter continue as such until withdrawn as provided in section six. Classified forest land shall be exempt from taxation under chapter fifty-nine but shall be subject to the taxes provided in section two of this chapter. If a single parcel or tract of land consists in part of forest land and in part of other land, the portion consisting of forest land, if it comprises at least three acres in area and conforms to the foregoing requirements, shall be listed as classified forest land, and the remainder of the tract shall be subject to taxation under chapter fifty-nine. Buildings and other structures, and the land on which they are erected and necessary for their use, shall be excluded from the classified forest land.

The assessors, on or before March first of the year when land is first listed as classified forest land, shall notify the owner of the land of such listing. Such notice shall contain a description of the land classified sufficient for identification. If the owner of land is aggrieved by the failure of the assessors in any year to list land as classified forest land pursuant to this section, he may, on or before March fifteenth of such year, appeal in writing to the state forester, who shall hear the parties, determine whether such land should be listed as classified forest land, and notify the parties of his decision not later than May first. Such decision shall be final. If the state forester determines that the land should be listed as classified forest land it shall be deemed to be classified forest land as of January first in the year of classification and shall thereafter continue as such until withdrawn as provided in section six. The assessors shall annually on or before April first give written notice to each owner of record of classified forest land that he is required to make return as provided in section two.

Section 2. The owner of classified forest land shall pay a products tax of such percentage of the stumpage value of all wood or timber cut therefrom as is set forth in the following schedule; provided, that the owner may annually cut, free of tax, wood or timber from such land for his own use or for the use of a tenant of said land, not exceeding twenty-five dollars in stumpage value.

On the basis of such return or any other available information the assessors shall assess such tax. The owner shall also pay annually a land tax upon an adjusted valuation as hereinafter provided at the rate determined for the taxation of property under chapter fifty-nine. The adjusted valuation of classified forest land shall be the percentage of the full value of the land, including the growth thereon as of January first of each year, set forth in the following schedule; provided, that in no year shall such adjusted valuation be less than the lesser

The assessors shall assess the land tax herein imposed. Both the products tax and the land tax shall be committed to the collector for collection in the same manner as taxes assessed under chapter fifty-nine. The collector shall notify the person assessed of the amount of the tax in the manner provided in section three of chapter sixty for notification of local taxes, and in the collection of taxes under this chapter the collector shall have all the remedies provided by chapter sixty for the collection of taxes upon real estate. Taxes so assessed shall be due and payable October first of the year in which the return is required to be made and, if not paid on or before November first of the year of assessment, shall bear interest at the rate of four per cent per annum from the due date to the date of payment. Any person aggrieved by the assessment of a tax under this section may within sixty days of the date of notice of the tax apply in writing to the assessors, upon a form approved by the commissioner, for abatement thereof, and if the assessors, after hearing or otherwise, find that the tax is excessive in amount or that the person assessed is not subject thereto, they shall abate it in whole or in part accordingly. If the tax has been paid, the town treasurer shall repay to the person assessed the amount of such abatement, with interest thereon at the rate of four per cent per annum from the time when it was paid. Any person aggrieved by the refusal of the assessors to abate a tax in whole or in part under this section may appeal to the appellate tax board within thirty days after the date of notice of their decision. Any overpayment of tax determined by decision of said appellate tax board shall be reimbursed by the town treasurer with interest at the rate of four per cent per annum from the time of payment.

Section 3. If an owner of classified forest land, having failed to file a return, or, having filed an incorrect or insufficient return, without reasonable excuse fails to file an original return or a corrected return, as the case may require, within twenty days after the giving of notice to him by the assessors of his delinquency, the assessors shall determine the amount of the products tax due and assess and commit the same at any time within two years after the date upon which the original return was due to be made. The owner may apply to the assessors for abatement and appeal from their decision as provided in section two. A tax so committed shall bear interest from October first of the year in which the original return was due to be filed.

Section 4. One tenth of the tax collected by the town under section two shall be paid to the state treasurer. Classified forest land shall not be included in the town valuation in apportioning the state and county taxes. Classified forest land shall be subject to special assessments and betterment assessments.

Section 5. Any owner of classified forest land, who, having received the notice provided in section one, shall fail to make return as provided in section two, shall be subject to a penalty of five dollars a day during the period of delinquency, but the assessors may for cause abate such penalty in whole or in part; provided, that such penalty shall in no case exceed the amount of the products tax assessable under section two. Penalties assessed hereunder shall be added to the tax, and shall bear interest and be collectible as a part of the tax.

Penalty for failure to make return.

Section 6. When in the judgment of the assessors classified forest land has become more valuable for other uses than the production of wood or timber, or when such land shall be used for purposes inconsistent with forest production, they shall on or before December first notify the owner of their intention to withdraw said land from the operation of this chapter on the following January first and shall give the owner an opportunity to be heard upon his written request made within ten days of the date of such notice. After such hearing when requested or without hearing if no hearing is requested, the assessors shall, if still of the opinion that such land should be withdrawn from classification, assess the same as of January first, under the provisions of chapter fifty-nine and shall also assess a products tax under this chapter upon the stumpage value of the growth as of January first at the rate set forth in the schedule in section two, which last mentioned tax shall be committed as therein provided and in all respects treated as a tax assessed under said section two.

Withdrawal of land from classification, etc.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect on January first, nineteen hundred and forty-two. Any land classified under chapter sixty-one of the General Laws as in effect immediately prior to said date shall be subject to the tax imposed by said chapter sixty-one as then in effect with respect to any wood or timber cut from such land prior to said date, but shall be free from any other liability imposed by said chapter sixty-one as then in effect.

The employment of four, five, six or seven individuals in employment subject to this chapter on some day in each of twenty weeks of the year nineteen hundred and thirty-eight shall constitute the employing unit thereof an employer hereunder as of January first of the year nineteen hundred and thirty-nine.

The employment of at least four individuals subject to this chapter on some day in each of twenty weeks in the year nineteen hundred and thirty-nine, or in any subsequent year up to and including nineteen hundred and forty-two shall constitute the employing unit thereof an employer hereunder as of January first in the year in which such employment occurs.

The employment of one individual in employment subject to this chapter on some day in each of twenty weeks in the year nineteen hundred and forty-two shall constitute the employing unit thereof an employer as of January first of the year nineteen hundred and forty-three and the employment of one individual in employment subject to this chapter on some day in each of twenty weeks in the year nineteen hundred and forty-three or in any subsequent year shall constitute the employing unit thereof an employer as of January first of the year in which such employment occurs; or

Section 9. All individuals employed by an employing unit in all of his or its several places of employment maintained within the commonwealth shall be treated as employed by a single employing unit for the purposes of this chapter.

Election by

Section 10. Any employing unit of one or more individuals in employment within the commonwealth, who is not otherwise subject to this chapter, shall become fully subject hereto upon filing with the director his or its election to become fully subject hereto for not less than two years and upon the written approval of such election by the director. Upon such approval, such services shall be deemed to constitute employment subject to this chapter from and after the date stated in such approval. Such services shall cease to be deemed employment subject hereto as of January first of any year subsequent to such two years, only if during January of such year such employing unit has filed with the director a written notice to that effect.

Section 11. Except as provided in section ten, no employer shall cease to be subject to this chapter except upon a written application therefor by him, which application may be filed with the director prior to March thirty-first in any year, and after a finding by the director that he has not on any day within the then last year employed four or more individuals in employment subject to this chapter, whereupon such employer shall cease to be subject hereto as of January first of the year in which such application is made.

Section 12. The director, upon his own motion, or upon application of an employing unit, after investigation, shall determine if an employing unit is an employer within the meaning of section eight, and if the services performed by any individual for such employer constitute employment within the meaning of this chapter, and shall notify the employing unit of such determination.

Determination of employing unit

Hearing, etc.

Such employing unit may, within thirty days after the mailing of notice of such determination, request that the director grant a hearing for the purpose of reconsidering the facts submitted and to consider any additional information. After such hearing, the director shall affirm, modify or revoke this determination and notice of his finding shall be mailed to the employing unit.

An application for review of such finding may be taken to the board of review within fifteen days after the mailing of the notice of such finding to the employing unit. After such notice to the director and to the appellant as said board deems necessary, it shall review the action of the director, reconsider the facts submitted and consider any additional evidence presented by the interested parties and shall affirm such action unless it shall appear that it was made without proper cause, in which case the decision shall be modified or revoked. Nothing in this section shall prevent the director after a decision by the board of review from submitting newly discovered evidence to said board, whereupon it shall order a hearing upon the subject matter after giving due notice to all interested parties.

A determination by the director where no hearing has been held, a finding after a hearing, or a decision of the board of review shall, except in matters arising under sections thirty-nine to forty-three, inclusive, be conclusive for all purposes of this chapter, and, together with the record thereof, shall be admissible in any subsequent proceedings, involving liability for contributions.

The director or an employing unit aggrieved by the decision of the board of review may, within twenty days after notice of such decision has been mailed by said board, bring a petition in the municipal court of the city of Boston or in the district court in the judicial district wherein said employing unit has his or its principal place of business and have the same remedy as provided for in section forty-two and the practices and procedure established for said section shall obtain.

If, upon a hearing in the municipal or district court, it appears that the petition for review is frivolous, immaterial, or intended for delay, the court may award against the appellant double costs.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the director, after notice to the affected parties, from reconsidering his determination that the employing unit was not subject to this chapter, when in his judgment it appears that because of newly discovered evidence or for any other reasonable cause the determination should be reconsidered.

CONTRIBUTIONS.

Contributions.

Section 13. The contributions required hereunder shall be paid to the commonwealth in such manner and at such times as the director may prescribe, and shall be paid over by the director to the state treasurer and credited by him to the unemployment compensation fund.

(a) If no rate of contribution under subsection (b) of this section applies, each employer shall make contributions for each year at the rate of two and seven tenths per cent of his payroll; provided, that he shall make contributions only on that part of the remuneration paid by him to an individual not in excess of three thousand dollars with respect to employment during any year.

(b) (1) For each calendar year, commencing after three immediate preceding consecutive calendar years throughout which he has been charged or could have been charged with benefit wages, the contribution rate of such employer shall be determined as hereinafter provided.

(2) When, in any calendar year, beginning not earlier than nineteen hundred and thirty-nine, a worker is paid benefits for the first compensable week of unemployment with respect to the benefit year to which the claim applies, his wages from each employer during his base period shall be termed "worker's benefit wages" and shall be treated for the purposes of this subsection as if they had been paid in the year in which the first week of benefits is paid. "Worker's benefit wages" when used with respect to benefits paid for the first compensable week of unemployment on claims originally arising in the year nineteen hundred and thirty-nine or in the year nineteen hundred and forty prior to April first shall include the wages not in excess of one thousand dollars in those quarters upon which the benefits available to the claimant were computed, assignable to the year nineteen hundred and thirty-nine or the year nineteen hundred and forty in accordance with this subsection. For the purpose of this subsection, benefit wages charged against each employer shall include only that part of wages not in excess of one thousand dollars paid by him in a base period.

(3) The "employer's benefit wages" for a given calendar year shall be the total of the benefit wages of all of his former workers assignable to such employer and to such calendar year in accordance with paragraph (2) hereof.

(4) The benefit wage ratio of each employer for a given calendar year shall be a percentage equal to the total of his benefit wages for the three most recently completed calendar years, divided by that part of his total payroll for the same three years, with respect to which contributions have been paid to the division on or before January thirty-first of the successive calendar years, respectively, or, in the alternative, on or before the date, but not later than March thirty-first, in any event, to which extension for such payment shall have been granted.

(5) For any calendar year the "state experience factor" shall be a percentage determined by dividing the total benefits paid from the commonwealth's benefit account during the three most recently completed calendar years by the total benefit wages of all employers during the same three completed calendar years, provided that any fractional percentage resulting therefrom shall be raised to the next higher multiple of one per cent. The state experience factor shall be determined for each year prior to March thirty-first thereof.

(6) The contribution rate for each employer for a given calendar year shall be determined and the employer notified thereof not less than ten days prior to the due date of the first contribution for the year. It shall be determined from the following table on the same line as the current state experience factor and shall be the rate appearing at the head of the lowest numbered column in which appears a percentage equal to or in excess of such employer's benefit wage ratio. If no percentage equal to or in excess of such benefit wage ratio appears on said line the employer's contribution rate shall be two and seven tenths per cent but not in excess thereof.

(c) If the unemployment compensation fund available for benefits becomes less than the amount of the benefit expense in that year of the most recent calendar years not exceeding ten in which the highest benefit expense was paid the director and council shall make a declaration to that effect. Effective the quarter following such declaration, the lowest four rates of employer contribution shall each be advanced one half of one per cent, and the two and one half per cent rate advanced to two and seven tenths per cent. Should such unemployment compensation fund after such increased rates have been in effect for two or more calendar quarters continue to be less than such highest benefit expense for such calendar year, the director and council shall so declare. Effective the quarter following such announcement, all employer contribution rates shall be raised to two and seven tenths per cent of such pay roll as is subject to this chapter. Whenever such unemployment compensation fund becomes more than an amount equal to one and one half times the amount of such highest benefit expense for such calendar year, the rates in the table shall become effective the quarter following the declaration by the director and council.

(d) Any employer may apply to the director for a review as to the determination of his benefit wage ratio, provided such application is filed within one year of the date of such determination.

Section 15. (a) If any employer fails to pay when due any amount required of him under this chapter, such overdue amount shall carry interest at the rate of six per cent per annum from the due date until paid, or the director may assess upon such employer in lieu of such interest a penalty of five dollars a day for one or more days, but not exceeding the number of days during which such employer is in default.

(b) The director may collect such overdue amounts, together with such interest or such penalty, in an action of contract in the name of the commonwealth commenced within three years from January thirty-first next succeeding the determination by him that the employer was liable for such amount, interest or penalty, but in no event shall an employer be liable for contributions due more than three calendar years prior to bringing suit. Such actions shall be given precedence over other civil cases except petitions for review arising under section forty-two.

(c) In addition to any other remedy provided by law, the director may, after giving to an employer whom he finds to be in default in any payment of contributions, interest or penalties assessed in lieu thereof provided by this chapter at least twenty days written notice by registered mail, addressed to his last known place of business or address, of the amount of such contributions, interest or penalties and that he intends to seek judgment therefor in the district court, file in the office of the clerk of the district court within the judicial district of which the employer has a usual place of business a statement setting forth the name and last known address of said employer, the amount of the contributions, interest and penalties due and that the director has complied with all the provisions of this chapter in relation to the computation and levy of said contributions, interest or penalties, with a request that judgment be entered against the employer in the amount of the contributions, interest and penalties set forth. Such statement and request shall be filed on a regular return day of said court and the notice to the employer shall specify the return day upon which they are to be filed. Upon the filing of such statement and request, judgment shall be entered forthwith for the director in the amount of the contributions, interest and penalties specified in the statement. Execution shall issue on judgments under this section in the same manner as in actions at law.

(d) The employer may, prior to said return day, pay the amount specified in such notice and shall thereupon have the right to file, within ninety days of said payment, a claim against the division for all or part of such amount and to recover so much thereof as may have been erroneously assessed or paid, such claim to be brought and prosecuted in the district court within the judicial district of which is located the principal place of business of the employer, or if his principal place of business is not located in the commonwealth, in the municipal court of the city of Boston. If the employer prevails the chief justice of the municipal court of the city of Boston, or the presiding justice of the district court, as the case may be, shall certify to the director the amount found to have been erroneously assessed or paid and the said amount shall be repaid from the clearing account. No interest or costs shall be taxed against the commonwealth.

Judgments,
etc., a lien
on assets of employer.

Section 16. Judgments recovered under any provision of section fifteen and overdue contributions, with interest thereon or penalties assessed in lieu thereof, shall, until collected, be a lien against the assets of the employer, subordinate, however, to claims for unpaid wages and prior recorded liens; provided, that no lien created by this section shall be valid against a subsequent purchaser or mortgagee in good faith and for value of land of such employer, or against a subsequent attaching creditor of land of such employer, unless and until there shall have been recorded in the registry of deeds for the county or district wherein the land lies a notice by the director of such lien, which notice shall state the name of the employer, the address of his principal place of business within the commonwealth, and the total amount then unpaid of the aforesaid overdue contributions, and interest thereon or penalties assessed in lieu thereof or of said judgment. If the land affected is registered land, the pertinent provisions of chapter one hundred and eighty-five shall apply. Such lien may be enforced or dissolved in the manner provided in chapter two hundred and fifty-four for enforcing or dissolving liens on buildings and land.

No recording fee shall be paid by the director for filing a notice of lien under this section.

Priority of lien.

Section 17. Contributions and interest thereon or penalties assessed in lieu thereof, shall have priority over all other claims against an employer, except wage claims.

Refunds, etc.
Procedure.

Section 18. If, within three years after any contribution has been paid, a person who has paid such contribution, interest thereon or penalty assessed in lieu thereof, shall make application for an adjustment or refund thereof, and if the director shall determine that such contribution, interest or penalty, or any portion thereof, was erroneously collected, the director shall allow such person to make an adjustment thereof in connection with a subsequent payment, or shall authorize the refund of said amount, without interest, in which latter event such refund shall be made from the clearing account.

Within nine months after the receipt by the applicant of written notice from the director that he has denied an application for a readjustment or a refund of any contribution in whole or in part, which application has been filed by an applicant who has paid a contribution under this chapter, such applicant, in addition to any other remedy which he may have, may bring an action of contract against the director to recover the whole or any part of such contribution. Such action may be brought in the district court in the judicial district of which, or in the superior court for the county in which, the employer lives or has his principal place of business, or in the municipal court of the city of Boston. In case the court shall find that the whole or any part of such contribution was excessive or has been collected or imposed incorrectly or unlawfully the court shall enter judgment accordingly in favor of the applicant and against the director but to be repaid out of the clearing account, and such judgment shall be so paid. No applicant shall be entitled to the remedy provided in this paragraph upon any issue which has been raised in a proceeding brought under any provision of paragraph (d) of section fifteen.

If, within three years after any contribution has been paid, the director shall determine that an employer has paid insufficient contributions, interest thereon or penalty assessed in lieu thereof, the director shall require such employer to make an adjustment thereof, with interest, in connection with a subsequent payment, or an additional payment, with interest.

Interest under this section shall not be exacted unless such interest amounts to one dollar or more.

Section 19. No final payment shall be made by the commonwealth, or by any agency or instrumentality thereof, or by any city, town or county to a foreign corporation or to a non-resident having no usual place of business within the commonwealth for or on account of services performed within the commonwealth except upon certificate filed by the director with the state comptroller, county, city or town treasurer, or appropriate disbursing official of any other political sub-division of the commonwealth, that the foreign corporation or non-resident is subject to the provisions of this chapter and has paid or made arrangements satisfactory to the director for payment of contributions due thereunder, or that the director has determined upon evidence satisfactory to him that said services performed within this commonwealth are not employment under the provisions of this chapter.

Final payments to foreign corporations, etc., regulated.

Section 20. (a) The director, with the approval of the state advisory council, may enter into agreements of compromise with an employer in respect to any contributions, penalties and interest due thereunder wherein it is determined by the director that there exists an inability on the part of the employer to make full payment of contribution with interest or penalty thereon, and that said employer has acted in good faith in all his relations with the division, and failure to compromise may result in termination of the employer's business and in loss of employment.

Compromise as to contributions, penalties, etc.

(b) When any compromise or agreement is made under provisions of this section, there shall be placed on file in the office of the division an opinion of the director stating the reasons therefor with a statement of the amount of contribution due, the amount of interest and additional penalty imposed by the director in consequence of the neglect or delinquency of the employer involved and the amount actually paid in accordance with the terms of the compromise. A copy of said opinion and statement shall be filed with the state advisory council.

(c) The provisions of subsections (a) and (b) of this section shall not apply to an employer where there is an unemployment excise tax due on the same services under provisions of the Internal Revenue Code, unless said agreement of compromise shall be contingent upon an agreement or compromise substantially similar in terms having been concluded under provisions of the Internal Revenue Code as to federal unemployment taxes, and evidence satisfactory thereof to the director having been placed on file in the office of the division.

(d) Such agreement or compromise shall be final and conclusive except upon a showing of fraud, malfeasance or misrepresentation of a material fact.

deductible
from gross income.

Section 21. Contributions made by employers in accordance with this chapter shall be considered ordinary and necessary expenses of the business of the employer, and deductible from gross income from professions, employments, trades or businesses returnable for taxation under chapter sixty-two, or from corporate income returnable for taxation under chapter sixty-three.

Said waiting period shall consist of two weeks of total unemployment, four weeks of partial unemployment or any combination of weeks in which there occurs one week of total and two weeks of partial unemployment. No benefits shall be or become payable during said waiting period. The weeks need not be successive.

(b) With respect to an individual in total unemployment who has registered or given notice as required by this section the waiting period shall commence on the Sunday nearest the date of registration. With respect to an individual in partial unemployment, such waiting period shall commence on the Sunday next but one preceding such registration or notice; provided, that in the case of an individual in partial unemployment the director may prescribe an earlier Sunday on which such period shall commence.

(c) There shall not be counted towards the required waiting period of an individual any week in which he fails to comply with the requirements of this section and of sections twenty-four and twenty-five.

(d) There may be counted toward the required waiting period of an individual any week in which he receives remuneration on a subsistence basis for services rendered to a state or federal agency designed or created to relieve unemployment.

(e) For the purpose of this section, a week of unemployment of an individual shall be counted toward the waiting period or for benefit purposes only if such week occurs subsequent to the date on which his employer satisfied the conditions which rendered him an employer subject to this chapter.

The director shall furnish copies of such requirements to each employer, who shall notify his employees of the terms thereof when they become unemployed. Any failure to furnish information accurately concerning any material fact, including amounts of wages and compensation received, as provided in subsection (c) of section twenty-four, may, at the discretion of the director disqualify the individual furnishing such inaccurate information from serving a waiting period or receiving any benefits for not more than ten compensable weeks subsequent to the time of furnishing such inaccurate information or of the discovery that such inaccurate information was so furnished.

(b) Any week with respect to which the director finds that his unemployment is due to a stoppage of work which exists because of a labor dispute at the factory, establishment or other premises at which he was last employed; provided, that this subsection shall not apply if it is shown to the satisfaction of the director that —

“Suitable employment”, as used in this subsection, shall be determined by the director, who shall take into consideration whether the employment is detrimental to the health, safety or morals of an employee, is one for which he is reasonably fitted by training and experience, including employment not subject to this chapter, is one which is located within reasonable distance of his residence or place of last employment, and is one which does not involve travel expenses substantially greater than that required in his former work.

No work shall be deemed suitable, and benefits shall not be denied under this chapter to any otherwise eligible individual for refusing to accept new work under any of the following conditions: —

(1) If the position offered is vacant due directly to a strike, lockout or other labor dispute;

(2) If the remuneration, hours or other conditions of the work offered are substantially less favorable to the individual than those prevailing for similar work in the locality;

(3) If acceptance of such work would require the individual to join a company union or would abridge or limit his right to join or retain membership in any bona fide labor organization or association of workmen.

(d) Any period with respect to which he is receiving or has received or is about to receive remuneration in the form of (1) payments in lieu of dismissal notice; (2) vacation allowances; (3) compensation for partial or total disability under the Workmen's Compensation Law of any state or under any similar law of the United States, but not including payments for certain specified injuries under section thirty-six of chapter one hundred and fifty-two; or payments for similar specified injuries under workmen's compensation laws of any state or under any similar law of the United States; or (4) a primary insurance benefit under Title II of the Social Security Act, or similar old age benefits under any act of Congress.

(2) By discharge shown to the satisfaction of the director to be attributable solely to deliberate misconduct in wilful disregard of the employing unit's interest.

Section 26. No waiting period shall be served and no benefits shall be paid under this chapter to an individual for any week with respect to which, or a part of which, he has received or is seeking unemployment benefits under an unemployment compensation law or employment security law of any other state or of the United States; provided, that, if the appropriate agency of such other state or of the United States finally determines that he is not entitled to such unemployment benefits, this section shall not apply.

Said partial benefit shall be raised to the next highest dollar if it includes a fractional part of a dollar.

Maximum

Section 30. The total benefits which an unemployed individual may receive during his benefit year shall be an amount equal to thirty per cent of his wages in the base period, or an amount equal to twenty times his benefit rate, whichever is the lesser. If such amount includes a fractional part of a dollar, it shall be raised to the next highest dollar.

Section 31. (a) An individual who on April first of any year is or was serving a waiting period or who is receiving consecutive payments for compensable weeks shall be paid benefits if otherwise entitled thereto in accordance with the law in effect at the time the individual registered until such time as the individual becomes re-employed or has exhausted his benefits or otherwise becomes ineligible. When such an individual has become re-employed or exhausted his benefits or become otherwise ineligible, he shall thereafter be ineligible for benefits until he shall have again registered and served a waiting period as provided herein.

(b) If such an individual shall register and serve a waiting period and again become eligible for benefits, there shall be deducted from the aggregate amount of benefits to which he would be entitled during the current benefit year the amount of benefits previously paid to him for weeks of unemployment during the current benefit year. In no event shall an individual be entitled to receive within any benefit year benefits in excess of the amount set forth in section thirty.

Section 32. If in any six months' period the amount paid in benefits from the unemployment compensation fund has exceeded the income, or if, in the judgment of the director, the reserves in said fund are in serious danger of depletion, the director may declare an emergency and announce a modified scale of benefits, an increased waiting period, or other changes in the requirements regarding eligibility for receipt of benefits which he may deem necessary to maintain the reserves of said fund.

Section 33. Wherever in any industry, employment or occupation, or branch thereof, because of its seasonal nature, it is customary to operate only during a regularly recurring period or periods of less than forty weeks in length, and whenever there are individuals employed in such industry, employment or occupation who are not ordinarily employed during the year in any other work, the director may, for the purposes of this chapter, ascertain, and determine, or re-determine, after investigation, such seasonal period or periods for each such seasonal industry, employment or occupation, or branch thereof. When the director has determined such seasonal period or periods, he shall also fix the right to benefits and the conditions required for the payment of benefits to such individuals, and shall so modify the requirements for eligibility to benefits and the conditions required for payment thereof that such individuals will receive benefits in reasonable proportion to the length of time during which they have been employed in such industry, employment or occupation. For the purposes of this chapter, no industry, employment or occupation or branch thereof shall be deemed seasonal until the director shall have made such a determination.

Seasonal occupations, etc.

Section 34. An individual who, owing to personal circumstances, is unable or unwilling to work the usual full time, and who normally works less than the full time prevailing in his place of employment and in the type of employment in which he is engaged, may register as a part-time worker in such manner as the director may prescribe. The director may fix the conditions required to qualify for benefits in such cases and may suitably modify the provisions of section twenty-four, and shall also fix proportionately maximum and minimum benefits in place of the maximum and minimum amounts provided in sections twenty-nine and thirty.

Section 35. No agreement by an individual to waive his right to benefit or any other right under this chapter, or to pay all or any portion of the contributions required hereunder from his employer, shall be valid. No employer shall make, or permit or require, any deduction from wages or salary of an employee to finance in whole or in part the contributions required of the employer, or require any waiver by an employee of any right hereunder. The director may make orders for the enforcement of this section, and shall cause all violations thereof and of this section to be prosecuted.

Agreement to waive right to benefits invalid.

Section 36. Benefits which are or may become due under this chapter shall not be assigned, pledged, encumbered, released, commuted or trusteeed before payment; and when paid shall, as long as they are not mingled with other funds of the beneficiary, be exempt from all claims of creditors, and from levy, execution and attachment or other remedy now or hereafter provided for the recovery or collection of debt, which exemption may not be waived.

Whoever exacts or receives any remuneration or gratuity for any services rendered on behalf of a benefit claimant under this chapter, except as authorized by this section, or who solicits the business of appearing on behalf of such a benefit claimant, or who makes it a business to solicit employment for another in connection with the making of any claim for benefits under this chapter, shall be punished by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or both.

Benefit claims,
where and how filed.

Section 38. Benefit claims shall be filed at the employment office at which the claimant has registered as unemployed. The director shall prescribe the form, the time, and the manner in which such claims, other than disputed claims, shall be filed. The director shall also prescribe the form and manner in which reports on claims required from the claimant and from the employing units shall be presented, and the conduct of hearings, other than those on appeals. Such procedure shall be designed to ascertain the substantive rights of the parties involved, without regard to common law or statutory rules of evidence and other technical rules of procedure. Notice of a claim so filed shall be given promptly by the director or his authorized representative to the most recent employing unit of the claimant and to such other persons as the director may prescribe. If such employing unit or person has reason to believe there has been misrepresentation or has other reasons which might affect the allowance of said claim, it or he shall return the said notice to the director with the reasons stated thereon within five days after receipt but in no case more than seven days after mailing of said notice, in accordance with the procedure prescribed by the director. For the purposes of this section, it shall be deemed that said notice has been returned as of the date indicated by the postal cancellation stamp thereon. The director may require the return by an employing unit or interested person of any such notice of claim together with such information concerning the basis of said claim as he may request. Failure to return said notice and information within the time provided in this section or prescribed by the director shall bar the employing unit or other interested party from being a party to further proceedings relating to the allowance of the claim, and wilful failure to return it within such time shall be subject to the penalties provided in section forty-seven.

Section 39. The director or his authorized representative shall promptly determine, in accordance with the procedure established by the director, and after making such inquiries and investigation as he deems necessary, whether or not the claim is valid and the amount, if any, of the benefits payable thereunder, and shall promptly give notice of such determination, together with the reasons therefor, to the claimant, and in the event that the claim is declared valid, shall give notice to any employing unit or other interested person who shall have returned notice in accordance with section thirty-eight. In accordance with the procedure prescribed by the director, benefits shall be paid or denied, unless an application for a review is filed in accordance with section forty. Default in payment of contributions by an employer shall not in any manner adversely affect the rights of any employee otherwise eligible for benefits.

Determination
of validity
of claim.

Section 40. A claimant or interested party may, within five days after receipt, but in no case more than seven days after mailing to him of notice of the determination, file an application for a review of such determination by the board of review.

Application
for review.

Section 41. Unless such application for a review is withdrawn, the board of review, after affording the parties reasonable opportunity for fair hearing, shall affirm or modify the findings of fact and decisions of the director or his authorized representative. The board of review may appoint one or more examiners, selected in accordance with section nine K of chapter twenty-three, to conduct such hearings, and the decision of any examiner so appointed shall be deemed to be the decision of the board of review from the date of the filing thereof with the director, unless the said board, on its own motion or on application duly made to it, modifies or rescinds such decision. The board shall give notice to the parties of its decision with its reasons therefor by mailing to each party at his last known address postage prepaid a copy of such decision and reasons. In lieu of such mailing, such copy may be delivered. No member or representative of the said board shall participate in any case in which he is an interested party. The manner in which disputed claims shall be presented, and the conduct of hearings on appeals, shall be in accordance with regulations prescribed by the board of review for determining the rights of the parties, whether or not such regulations conform to common law or statutory rules of evidence and other technical rules of procedure. Such regulations shall include provision for the following:—

Hearings by

Section 42. The director or any interested person aggrieved by any decision of fact or of law in any proceeding under section twelve or sections thirty-eight and thirty-nine may, after exhaustion of other appellate remedies provided under sections forty and forty-one, present certified copies of such decision of the board of review and all papers in connection therewith to the district court for the district in which he resides, or to the municipal court of the city of Boston, and if so presented to the municipal court of the city of Boston, the court may, upon a motion of any party in interest, order the case removed to the district court in the judicial district in which any of the parties in interest reside. The court shall thereupon render a decision or decree in accordance therewith and notify the parties. Such decision or decree shall have the same effect, and all proceedings in relation thereto shall thereafter be the same as though rendered in an action duly heard and determined by said court, except that there shall be no appeal therefrom upon questions of fact, and except that there shall be no appeal from any decision or decree based upon any decision of the board of review which has not been presented to the court within twenty days after notice of the filing thereof by the said board of review. An appeal may be taken by an aggrieved party to the supreme judicial court on questions of law. The director shall thereupon enter an order in accordance with the decision or decree of the court. The director shall be deemed to be a party to any proceeding hereunder involving any such decision. Section 45. Every employing unit shall keep true and accurate records of all individuals employed by him and such other information as the director deems necessary for the effective administration of this chapter. Such records shall be open to inspection by the director or his authorized representatives at any reasonable time. The director may require from any such employing unit such reports on wages, hours, employment, unemployment and related matters concerning his employees as the director deems necessary for the effective administration of this chapter, and every such employing unit shall fully, correctly and promptly furnish to the director all information required by him to carry out the purposes and provisions of this chapter. Each such false statement or representation shall constitute a separate offence.

Any employing unit, or any officer or agent of an employing unit, who wilfully makes a false statement or representation to avoid or reduce any contribution or benefit payment required of such employing unit under any provision of this chapter, or who wilfully fails or refuses to pay any such benefit or contribution, or to furnish any report or information duly required by the director under any provision of this chapter, or makes or requires any deduction from wages to pay any portion of the contributions required from employers under any provision of this chapter, or attempts by threats or coercion of any kind to induce any individual to waive any rights under any provision of this chapter, shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five nor more than two hundred dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than ninety days, or both; and each such false statement or representation, each such deduction from wages and each such attempt to coerce, shall constitute a separate and distinct offence. This fund shall consist of —

All contributions and moneys paid into the state treasury and credited to the fund as provided in this chapter; all property and securities acquired by and through the use of moneys belonging to the fund and all interest thereon, less payments therefrom under this chapter, and excepting refunds of sums erroneously paid into the fund, and except for refunds paid in accordance with the provisions of section sixteen hundred and six (b) of the Federal Unemployment Tax Act and acts in amendment thereof and in addition thereto.

All moneys in the fund shall be pooled and available to pay benefits under this chapter irrespective of the source of such moneys.

Requisitions
from funds.

treasury.

Section 52. All moneys requisitioned from the commonwealth's account in the unemployment trust fund in the United States treasury and received by the director from the state treasurer shall be immediately deposited in a benefit account maintained by the director. All moneys in the benefit account shall be used exclusively for the payment of benefits pursuant to this chapter.

Section 53. Any balance of moneys requisitioned from the unemployment trust fund which remains unclaimed or unpaid in the benefit account after the expiration of the period for which such sums were requisitioned shall either be deducted from estimates for, and may be utilized for the payment of, benefits during succeeding periods, or, in the dis

Premiums upon bonds pursuant to this section shall be paid from the employment security administration account.

Director to give bond.

Section 56. The provisions of this chapter, to the extent that they relate to the unemployment compensation fund, shall be operative only so long as such unemployment compensation fund continues to exist and so long as the secretary of the treasury of the United States of America continues to maintain for the commonwealth a separate book account of all funds deposited therein by the commonwealth for benefit purposes, together with the commonwealth's proportionate share of the earnings of such unemployment compensation fund, from which no other state is permitted to make withdrawals. If and when such unemployment compensation fund ceases to exist, or such separate book account is no longer maintained, all moneys belonging to the unemployment compensation fund of the commonwealth shall be requisitioned by the state treasurer as ex officio treasurer of the fund. The state treasurer shall thereafter, in accordance with the pertinent provisions of this chapter, hold, invest, transfer, sell, deposit and release such moneys, and any properties, securities, or earnings acquired as an incident thereto, for the administration by the director as a trust fund for the purposes of paying benefits or refunds; provided, that such moneys shall be invested in the following classes of securities:

Section 59. The state treasurer, in addition to the provisions contained in section two of chapter ten, shall be liable on the treasurer's bond for the faithful performance of his duties in connection with the unemployment compensation fund, the clearing account in connection therewith and the employment security administration account provided for under this chapter. (b) Potential rights to benefits accumulated under the unemployment compensation laws of one or more states or under one or more such laws of the federal government, or both, may constitute the basis for the payment of benefits through a single appropriate agency under terms which the director finds will be fair and reasonable as to all affected interests and will not result in any substantial loss to the fund;

(c) Wages or services, upon the basis of which an individual may become entitled to benefits under an unemployment compensation law of another state or of the federal government, shall be deemed to be wages for employment for the purpose of determining his rights to benefits under this chapter, and wages for employment, on the basis of which an individual may become entitled to benefits under this chapter shall be deemed to be wages or services on the basis of which unemployment compensation under such law of another state or of the federal government is payable, but no such arrangement as provided in this section shall be entered into unless it contains provisions for reimbursements to the fund for such of the benefits paid under this chapter upon the basis of such wages or services, and provisions for reimbursements from the fund for such of the compensation paid under such other law upon the basis of wages for employment, as the director finds will be fair and reasonable as to all affected interests; and

(d) Contributions due under this section with respect to wages for employment shall for the purposes of section fourteen be deemed to have been paid to the unemployment compensation fund as of the date payment was made as contributions therefor under another state or federal unemployment compensation law, but no such arrangement shall be entered into unless it contains provisions for such reimbursement to the unemployment compensation fund of such contributions and the actual earnings thereon as the director finds will be fair and reasonable as to all affected interests.

(e) Reimbursements paid from said fund pursuant to subsection (c) of this section shall be deemed to be benefits for the purposes of this chapter. Section 67. If any employer shall wilfully fail or refuse to make any report or return as required by any provision of this chapter or of the rules and regulations of the director made under authority of this chapter, the director may estimate the liability of such employer from any available information and may assess upon, and collect from, such employer the contributions, penalties and interest due from him.

Notice of any such redetermination shall be promptly given to the parties entitled to notice of the original determination, in the manner prescribed in this chapter with respect to notice of an original determination. If the amount of benefits is increased upon such redetermination an appeal therefrom solely with respect to the matters involved in such increase may be filed in the manner and subject to the limitations provided in sections thirty-nine to forty-two, inclusive. If the amount of benefits is decreased upon such redetermination, the matters involved in such decrease shall be subject to review in connection with an appeal by claimant thereon or from any determination upon a subsequent claim for benefits which may be affected in amount or duration by such redetermination. Subject to the same limitations and for the same reasons, the director may reconsider the determination in any case in which a decision has been rendered by the board of review or a court, and may apply to said board or such court which rendered such decision to revoke or modify such decision and the board of review or court may affirm, modify or revoke such decision.

In the event that an appeal involving an original determination is pending as of the date a redetermination thereof is issued, such appeal, unless withdrawn, shall be treated as an appeal from such redetermination.

(a) There shall be in the division, but not subject to the control of the director, a state advisory council of six members, citizens of the commonwealth, to be appointed by the governor, with the advice and consent of the council. Two of said members shall be persons who, because of their vocations, employments, occupations or affiliations, can be classed as employers; two shall be persons who, for like reasons, can be classed as employees; and two shall be persons representative of the public. The governor shall from time to time designate as chairman one of the members who was appointed as representative of the public. Of the members originally appointed, one of each of the aforesaid groups shall be chosen for a term of four years, and one of each group for a term of six years; and thereafter as their terms expire the governor shall, with like advice and consent, appoint members for terms of six years. Vacancies shall be filled by appointment by the governor, with like advice and consent, for the remainder of the unexpired term. All members shall serve until the qualification of their respective successors. Each of the members of the council shall receive the sum of fifteen dollars as compensation for each day's attendance at meetings of the council; provided, that the total amount paid hereunder to any such member shall not exceed fifteen hundred dollars in any period of twelve months. The council shall meet at least once a month. Members of the council shall receive their traveling and other necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their duties. The director shall provide for the council suitable quarters and such clerical and other assistance as the council may deem necessary. Said offices and the incumbents thereof shall not be subject to chapter thirty-one and the rules and regulations made thereunder.

(b) There shall be in the division a board of review consisting of three persons to be appointed by the governor, with the advice and consent of the council. Of the members first appointed, one shall be appointed for a term of two years, one for a term of four years and one for a term of six years, and thereafter as the term of a member expires his successor shall be appointed for a term of six years. Vacancies shall be filled in like manner for the remainder of the unexpired term. All members shall serve until the qualification of their respective successors. The governor shall from time to time designate one of the members as chairman. All members shall devote their whole time in office hours to the duties of their office. Said offices and the incumbents thereof shall not be subject to chapter thirty-one and the rules and regulations made thereunder. The chairman of the board and each of the other members shall receive a salary of forty-five hundred dollars. Members of the board shall receive their traveling and other necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their duties.

SECTION 6. Nothing in sections four and five of this act shall be deemed to affect the terms of office of the director, the members of the state advisory council or the members of the board of review in the division of unemployment compensation who shall be in office on the effective date of this act, and such director and members shall severally continue to hold office as if this act had not been passed, but on and after said date none of them may be removed from office except by the governor for cause and with the advice and consent of the council.

office not

SECTION 7. The state treasurer shall, upon the taking effect of this act, transfer to the director of the division of employment security all moneys in his hands as a state agency which have been requisitioned by him from the unemployment trust fund in the hands of the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States and said director shall immediately deposit said moneys in the benefit account, so called.

Emergency
preamble.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would in part defeat its purpose, which is to effect an immediate interdepartmental transfer of the so-called Treasury Unit, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The treasury unit, so called, of the division of employment security in the department of labor and industries, formerly known as the division of unemployment compensation, which unit disburses the unemployment compensation fund, together with the positions in said unit and the incumbents thereof, is hereby transferred from the department of the treasurer and receiver general to said division of employment security. Said positions upon such transfer shall be placed within the classified civil service and the incumbents thereof at the time of transfer who have passed qualifying examinations given by the director of civil service shall be certified by said director for said positions and shall be deemed to be permanently appointed thereto without serving any probationary period, and their tenure of office or employment shall be unlimited, subject, however, to the civil service laws.

AN ACT TO DEFER OPERATION OF THE NEW MORTALITY TABLES FOR THE TEACHERS' RETIREMENT SYSTEM. Chap.687

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would wholly defeat its purpose, which is to enable teachers, who are eligible to retire, or who may become so eligible prior to July second, nineteen hundred and forty-two, or who have been retired subsequently to the adoption of new mortality tables and interest rates on August fifteenth, nineteen hundred and forty-one, to receive retirement allowances based on the tables and rates in effect immediately prior to said last mentioned date, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience. Emergency preamble.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

The operation of the mortality tables and the rates of interest to be used in connection therewith prescribed on August fifteenth of the current year by the commissioner of insurance under section thirty-four of chapter thirty-two of the General Laws are hereby deferred until July second, nineteen hundred and forty-two, and the tables and rates of interest in effect immediately preceding said August fifteenth shall remain in full force and effect until July second, nineteen hundred and forty-two.

Approved October 24, 1941.

AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE FORECASTING OF FOREST FIRE WEATHER AND TO FOREST PATROLS. Chap.688

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to make further provision immediately for the prevention of forest fires, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public health, safety and convenience. Emergency preamble.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The director of the division of forestry in the department of conservation shall establish and maintain a system of forecasting forest fire weather; provided, that such service is not available from the United States Forest Service. Every city and town which in the judgment of said director contains sufficient woodland or such forest fire hazards as to justify the use of patrols shall employ patrol service as hereinafter provided. Patrols shall be used on all days determined and announced by said director to be of class three or higher fire hazard, according to the United States Forest Service standard of classification of fire danger, or its equivalent in any future classification. Said director shall determine in advance what areas shall be patrolled in each city or town, the method to be used and the maximum Forecasting forest fire weather.

number of patrols necessary, after a study made in co-operation with the local forest warden. The patrols shall be increased with the increase of hazard to the number so determined to be necessary for a given degree of hazard. In case any city or town fails to comply with this act, the director may cause the forests therein to be patrolled and the city or town shall be liable for the cost of such patrol. Such cost shall be paid primarily by the commonwealth, and the state treasurer shall issue his warrant requiring the assessors of the town to assess a tax to the amount of said cost, as certified by said director to said state treasurer, which shall be collected and paid to said state treasurer in the same manner and subject to the same penalties as state taxes. Any balance of such cost due shall be assessed in the succeeding years in the same manner. Each town having a valuation of one million, two hundred and fifty thousand dollars or less shall be reimbursed by the commonwealth for one half of any expenditures under this act, when approved by said director.

G. L. (Ter. Ed.), 48, § 28B, temporarily suspended.

Termination of act.

SECTION 2. Section twenty-eight B of chapter forty-eight of the General Laws shall be inoperative for the period during which this act is in effect.

SECTION 3. This act shall cease to be of force and effect on July thirty-first, nineteen hundred and forty-four.

Approved October 24, 1941.

AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE GRANTING TO PRISONERS OF PER-MITS TO BE AT LIBERTY, TO THE DISCHARGE OF PRISONERS,
AND TO PARDONS. Chap. 690

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to make effective shortly the amendments made hereby in the laws relative to permits to be at liberty, to the discharge of prisoners, and to pardons, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Emergency
preamble.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter one hundred and twenty-seven of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section one hundred and twenty-eight, as most recently amended by section forty-one of chapter four hundred and fifty-one of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-nine, and inserting in place thereof the following section: — Section 128. Subject to other provisions of law, permits to be at liberty, in this chapter also referred to as parole permits, may be granted as follows: to prisoners in the penal institutions of the commonwealth or transferred therefrom to jails or houses of correction, with the exception of prisoners serving sentence for drunkenness only, by the parole board; to prisoners in a jail or house of correction in any county other than Suffolk, except those transferred as aforesaid, by the county commissioners; to prisoners in the jail or house of correction in Suffolk county, except those transferred as aforesaid, by the penal institutions commissioner. All permits shall be issued by the board or officer granting them.

SECTION 2. Said chapter one hundred and twenty-seven is hereby further amended by striking out sections one hundred and twenty-nine to one hundred and thirty-nine, inclusive, as amended, and inserting in place thereof the nine following new sections: — Section 129. The officer in charge of each prison or other place of confinement, except the state farm, shall keep a record of the conduct of each prisoner in his custody whose term of imprisonment is four months or more. Every such prisoner whose record of conduct shows that he has faithfully observed all the rules of his prison or other place of confinement, and has not been subjected to punishment or released on parole or permit to be at liberty from the sentence which he is then serving and returned for violation of such parole or permit, shall be entitled, upon terms to be prescribed as hereinafter provided, to a conditional deduction from the maximum term for which he may be held under his sentence, which shall be determined as follows: upon a sentence of not less than four months and less than one year, one day for each month; upon a sentence of not less than one year and less than three years, three days for each month; upon a sentence of not less than three years and less than five years, four days for each month; upon a sentence of not less than five years and less than ten years, five days for each month; upon a sentence of ten years or more, six days for each month. If a prisoner has two or more sentences to be served otherwise than concurrently, the aggregate of his several sentences shall be the basis upon which the deduction shall be determined. A prisoner who is entitled to such conditional deduction shall receive a written permit to be at liberty during the time so deducted, upon such terms as the board or officer granting the permit shall prescribe. If a prisoner to whom such a permit has been granted violates any of the terms thereof, it may be revoked by the board or officer by which or by whom it was granted, and such prisoner shall thereupon be ordered to be returned to the prison or other place of confinement to which he was originally sentenced. He shall serve the portion of his sentence originally imposed which remained at the time of his receiving such permit, or so much thereof as such board or officer may determine. If a prisoner violates any of the rules of his prison or other place of confinement or the terms of a parole or permit to be at liberty from the sentence which he is then serving, in the case of a prisoner sentenced or transferred to a state institution, the commissioner, upon recommendations and evidence submitted to him in writing by the warden, superintendent or officer in charge, and in the case of a prisoner sentenced to and confined in a county institution, the board or officer authorized to grant permits to such a prisoner, shall decide what part of such deduction shall be forfeited by such violation. If, during the term of imprisonment of a prisoner confined in a state or county institution, such prisoner shall commit any offence of which he shall be convicted and sentenced, all such deductions, from both the former sentence and any subsequent sentence of imprisonment for the offence of which he was so convicted, shall be thereby forfeited.

Terms and conditions
of parole.

Section 130. Except as provided in section one hundred and twenty-nine, no prisoner shall be granted a parole permit merely as a reward for good conduct or efficient performance of duties assigned in prison, but only if the board or officer having jurisdiction is of the opinion that there is a reasonable probability that, if such prisoner is released, he will live and remain at liberty without violating the law, and that his release is not incompatible with the welfare of society. A prisoner to whom a parole permit is granted, including a permit granted under section one hundred and twenty-nine, shall be allowed to go upon parole outside of prison walls and inclosure upon such terms and conditions as the board or officer having jurisdiction shall prescribe, but shall remain, while thus on parole, subject to the jurisdiction of such board or officer until the expiration of the term of imprisonment to which he has been sentenced.

Section 131. The board or officer having jurisdiction shall, in releasing a prisoner on parole, specify in writing the terms and conditions of his parole, and a copy of such terms and conditions shall be given to the parolee. A violation of such terms or conditions shall render the parolee liable to arrest and re-imprisonment.

Specification
of terms, etc.,
in writing.

Section 132. The parole board shall be charged with the duty of determining what prisoners, within its jurisdiction as defined in section one hundred and twenty-eight, in the penal institutions of the commonwealth or transferred therefrom to jails or houses of correction, may be released on parole and when and under what conditions. The power to grant a parole permit to any such prisoner and to revoke, revise, alter or amend the same and the terms and conditions on which it was granted shall remain in the parole board until the expiration of the maximum term of the sentence for the service of which such prisoner was committed notwithstanding the transfer of such prisoner from an institution of the commonwealth to any other institution. Said parole board shall also be charged with the duty of supervising all prisoners released on parole permits granted by it, including permits granted under section one hundred and twenty-nine, of making such investigations as may be necessary in connection therewith, of determining whether violation of parole terms and conditions exists in specific cases and of deciding the action to be taken with reference thereto, and of aiding paroled prisoners to secure employment. The parole board shall also be charged with the duty of supervising all prisoners pardoned on parole conditions, and of reporting to the governor and to the warden, superintendent or keeper, respectively, of the institution in which the prisoner was confined at the time of his pardon, violations by any such prisoner of the parole conditions applicable to his pardon.

Duties of
parole board.

Section 133. Parole permits may be granted by the parole board to prisoners subject to its jurisdiction at such time as the board in each case may determine; provided, that no prisoner held under sentence to the state prison shall receive a parole permit until he shall have served two and one half years, nor until he shall have served two thirds of his minimum sentence, or, if he has two or more sentences to be served otherwise than concurrently, two thirds of the aggregate of the minimum terms of such several sentences.

Time of granting parole.
Exceptions.

Section 134. No parole permit shall be granted by the parole board to an inmate in the state prison, the Massachusetts reformatory, the reformatory for women, the state prison colony or the state farm until the inmate has been seen by said board. The warden and superintendents of the penal institutions of the commonwealth, personally or by a representative, shall be present at all meetings of the parole board at which the board votes on the matter of the release from their respective institutions of a prisoner serving sentence for a felony or of a defective delinquent. Each member of the parole board shall record in clear and concise form the reasons for his or her decision in the matter of granting a parole permit to a prisoner serving a sentence for a felony or to a defective delinquent. This section shall not apply in the case of release of prisoners under section one hundred and twenty-nine.

commissioner to be furnished
parole board.

Section 135. The commissioner shall furnish to the parole board all information in his possession relating to any prisoner whose case is under consideration. As each prisoner sentenced under an indeterminate sentence is received in the prisons of the commonwealth, it shall be the duty of the commissioner, while the case is still recent, to cause to be obtained and filed information as complete as may be obtainable at that time with regard to such prisoner. Such information shall include a complete statement of the crime for which he is then sentenced, the circumstances of such crime, the nature of his sentence, the court in which he was sentenced, the name of the judge and district attorney, and copies of such probation reports as may have been made, as well as reports as to the prisoner's social, physical, mental and psychiatric condition and history. It shall be the duty of the clerk of the court and of all probation officers and other appropriate officials to send such information as may be in their possession or under their control to the commissioner, upon request. The commissioner shall also at that time obtain and file a copy of the complete criminal record of such prisoner, so far as reasonably available, including any juvenile court record that may exist. When all such existing available records have been assembled, they shall be made available to the parole board so as to be readily accessible when the parole of such prisoner is being considered.

Hearings on paroles, etc.

Section 136. No application for release on parole of a prisoner made by him or on his behalf shall be entertained by the parole board, but such a release of a prisoner by said board shall be solely on its own initiative. In every case where a prisoner is serving a sentence for a felony, the parole board shall, within sixty days after such prisoner first becomes eligible for parole, grant such prisoner a hearing before the board and shall consider carefully and thoroughly the question whether a parole permit should be granted to such prisoner. Prisoners entitled to such a hearing shall, so far as reasonably practicable, be granted a hearing in the order in which they respectively become eligible for parole. At least one month prior to the time a prisoner serving sentence for a felony first becomes eligible for parole, the commissioner shall submit to the parole board or to an officer designated by it, all information with regard to such prisoner not already so submitted. Such information shall include, in addition to any other pertinent information: (a) a report from the warden or superintendent of each prison in which such prisoner has been confined as to the prisoner's conduct in prison, with a detailed statement as to all infractions of prison rules and discipline, all punishments meted out to such prisoner, and the circumstances connected therewith, as well as a report from each such warden or superintendent as to the extent to which such prisoner has responded to the efforts made in prison to improve his mental and moral condition, with a statement as to the prisoner's attitude toward society, toward the judge who sentenced him, toward the district attorney who convicted him, toward the policeman who arrested him, and how the prisoner then regards the crime for which he is in prison and his previous criminal career; (b) a report giving the prisoner's industrial record while in prison, the nature of his occupations while in prison, and a recommendation as to the kind of work he is best fitted to perform and at which he is most likely to succeed when he leaves prison; (c) a report of such physical, mental and psychiatric examinations as have been made of such prisoner which so far as practicable shall have been made within two months of the time of his eligibility for parole. The parole board shall reach its own conclusions as to the desirability of granting such prisoner a parole permit. This section shall not apply in the case of release of prisoners under section one hundred and twenty-nine.

Section 136A. The commissioner may grant, upon such terms and conditions as he may prescribe, a conditional release to any prisoner in a penal institution of the commonwealth who is there held solely by reason of a sentence for drunkenness. Such terms and conditions may be revised, altered or amended, or such conditional release may be revoked, by the commissioner at any time. A violation by the holder of such conditional release of any of its terms or conditions or the violation of any law of the commonwealth shall render such conditional release void. The commissioner, if a conditional release issued by him has become void or has been revoked, may order the arrest of the holder of such conditional release by any special state police officer in the department of correction or any officer qualified to serve civil or criminal process in any county, and the return of such holder to the prison to which he was originally sentenced.

Conditional release of prisoners held solely for drunkenness.

SECTION 3. Section one hundred and forty-nine of said chapter one hundred and twenty-seven, as most recently amended by section two of chapter one hundred and seventy-four of the acts of nineteen hundred and forty-one, is hereby further amended by striking out the second sentence, — so as to read as follows: — Section 149. The parole board, the county commissioners or, in Suffolk county, the penal institutions commissioner of Boston, if a permit to be at liberty granted or issued by them, respectively, has become void or has been revoked, or if a prisoner on parole under section one hundred and forty-one has been ordered to return to prison, may order the arrest of the holder of such permit or of such prisoner on parole by any officer qualified to serve civil or criminal process in any county, and the return of such holder or of such prisoner on parole

G. L. (Ter. Ed.), 127, § 149, etc., amended.

Arrest for violation of permit, etc.

to the prison to which he was originally sentenced. A prisoner who has been so returned to prison shall be detained therein according to the terms of his original sentence. In computing the period of his confinement, the time between his release upon a permit or on parole and his return to prison shall not be considered as any part of the term of his original sentence. If at the time of the order to return to prison or of the revocation of his permit he is confined in any prison, service of such order shall not be made until his release therefrom.

G. L. (Ter. Ed.), 127, § 154, etc., amended.

Duties of parole board acting as advisory board of pardons.

SECTION 4. Said chapter one hundred and twenty-seven is hereby further amended by striking out section one hundred and fifty-four, as amended, and inserting in place thereof the following section:— Section 154. The parole board, acting as the advisory board of pardons, shall consider carefully and thoroughly the merits of all petitions for pardon or commutation of sentence referred to it by the governor, and it shall make to him a written report containing its conclusions and recommendations. No such report shall be made without the concurrence of a majority of the members of the board. If in the opinion of the board the facts stated in such report are such as to cause undue or unmerited hardship or injury to the petitioner or to other individuals, if made public, the portion of said report containing such facts may be submitted separately from the conclusions and recommendations, and without publicity, but in all cases a statement setting forth the crime or crimes for which a pardon or commutation of sentence is sought, the sentence or sentences received, and the length of time served, together with such statement of the conclusions and recommendations of the board, shall be made public when the report is submitted, and a copy of such statement, signed by each member concurring therein shall be retained in the records of the board and shall be and remain a matter of public record. Before considering any petition for pardon or commutation of sentence, if the conviction of the prisoner was had in the superior court, the parole board, acting as the advisory board of pardons, shall notify the district attorney, who shall report the facts of the case as they appeared at the trial, or, if the conviction was upon a plea of guilty, the facts as he understands them, the names of all witnesses in the case, and his recommendation. If the petitioner is serving a sentence in the state prison the attorney general shall also be notified. If the conviction was in a district court the justice thereof shall make to said board a similar report and recommendation. The attorney general, district attorney or justice, as the case may be, shall be notified of the hearing upon the petition for pardon or commutation of sentence, and they or their representatives may be present at the hearing, examine the petitioner's witnesses, and be heard. The said board shall not review the proceedings of the trial court, and shall not consider any questions regarding the correctness, regularity or legality of such proceedings, but shall confine itself solely to matters which properly bear upon the propriety of the extension of clemency to the petitioner. Said board from time to time may make rules relative to the calling of meetings and to the proceedings thereat. The board or any member of it may summon witnesses and administer oaths or affirmations. The fees of witnesses before the board shall be the same as for witnesses in civil actions before the courts, and shall be paid from the appropriation for the expenses of the parole board.

SECTION 5. Said chapter one hundred and twenty-seven is hereby further amended by striking out sections one hundred and sixty-six and one hundred and sixty-seven, inserted by chapter four hundred and eighty-four of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-nine, and inserting in place thereof the two following sections: — Section 166. No person shall, in the attempt to procure, or for the procurement of, any pardon, parole, commutation of or respite from sentence of a prisoner then confined in, or at liberty after having been confined in, any of the penal institutions of this commonwealth, or then under sentence to serve a term of imprisonment in any of said institutions, knowingly pay or offer to pay, or solicit, offer to receive or receive, either by way of gift or of reward or of compensation for services, or otherwise, except for proper legal services, any money or other thing of value, or shall transmit the same from one person to another; nor in such attempt or for such procurement shall any person make, or offer or promise to make, or to procure or induce the making of, any appointment to any position, whether or not in the public service.

Section 167. No person shall represent or purport to represent any prisoner then confined in, or at liberty after having been confined in, any of the penal institutions of this commonwealth or then under sentence to serve a term of imprisonment in any of said institutions, in the attempt to procure or for the procurement of any pardon, parole, commutation of or respite from sentence, unless such person shall first have filed in the office of the state secretary a written statement signed by him and made under the penalties of perjury, stating in substance that none of the provisions of section one hundred and sixty-six has been violated, that such person is acting with the written consent of the prisoner, and that such person has not received or been promised, and does not expect to receive or to be promised, any money or other reward for so acting, except fees or other reward for legal services, the amount of which fees or other reward and a detailed description of which services shall be set forth in such statement. If any person receives any additional fee or other reward for legal services different from that disclosed in the statement referred to in this section, such person shall forthwith file in the same form and manner as the original statement an additional statement setting forth the amount of such additional fees or the exact nature and extent

(7) That he has failed to keep, at his place of business within the commonwealth, minimum records required by order, rule or regulation of the board, as presently or previously constituted, or has failed to furnish the statements or information required by the board under this chapter or required legally under similar provisions of earlier law, or has kept false records, or furnished false statements with respect to such information;

(8) That any statement made by him in reliance upon which to any degree, his license as a milk dealer was granted, renewed or restored, was false or fraudulent in any material particular;

Hearing by board on suspension, etc.

Section 7. (a) Before declining to grant a license of any type, or suspending or revoking a license, the board shall hold a hearing and grant the applicant or licensee an opportunity to be heard in person or by attorney. A duly attested copy of the order of the board upon such hearing shall be served upon the applicant or the licensee in the manner provided by section nineteen.

LICENSE FEES AND ASSESSMENTS.

Fee for
license.

Payment,
how made.

Section 9. (a) Each milk dealer required to be licensed under this chapter shall annually pay a license fee, in an amount to be from time to time determined by the board, but not more than five dollars, and each such milk dealer, other than one who is also a producer selling to consumers not more than fifty quarts of milk daily, shall, on or before the tenth day of each month, pay to the board, for the month immediately preceding, such an amount as the board deems equitable for the market or markets involved, equivalent to not more than two cents per hundredweight of the milk which the milk dealer during such month (1) pasteurized, processed, or bottled or otherwise packaged for sale, and sold or distributed, or (2) sold or distributed to persons other than milk dealers not eligible for exemption under subsection (b) of section four in any market or markets within the commonwealth, irrespective of where such milk was produced, or upon such portion thereof as the board by order, rule or regulation determines to be equitable.

(b) One half of any such payment made by any milk dealer on or before the tenth day of the month in which such payment is due, on account of milk sold or distributed by him in the highest use classification from time to time determined by the board for such market or markets, may be deducted rateably by him from amounts due from him to producers for such milk.

(c) In case the same milk is handled by more than one milk dealer, the first dealer within the commonwealth dealing in or handling said milk in either manner described in subsection (a), shall be deemed to be the milk dealer within the meaning of this section. This section shall be construed as applying to sales organizations, co-operative agents, producers and milk dealers for the sale or distribution of milk in any form, other than a common carrier or contract carrier who performs in connection with such milk no act within the commonwealth other than the transportation thereof.

(d) Any reference in this section to any quantity of milk shall be construed to include its whole milk equivalent.

PRICES, TERMS AND CONDITIONS.

Public Interest and Reasonable Return.

Section 10. The board shall ascertain, by such examination or investigation as the situation may permit or warrant, and after a general public hearing held after due notice, what prices, terms and conditions relative to milk in the several localities and markets in the commonwealth, under the varying conditions therein, will be most beneficial to the public interest and will best protect the milk industry.

Minimum prices for milk, how determined.
Public hearing, etc.

In every such examination or investigation and hearing, the board shall take into consideration all the conditions affecting the milk industry, including the amount necessary to yield a reasonable return to the producer and to the milk dealer. In establishing minimum prices for milk under this chapter the board shall cause said prices to be fair, just and reasonable, and, to accomplish that end, shall take into consideration and be guided by costs of production, hauling, handling, processing, storage, distribution and other cost factors involved in the production and marketing of milk, including compliance with all sanitary regulations, and shall consider the balance between the supply of milk and the consumption of the same, the purchasing power of consumers as evidenced by available indices of income and general business and industrial activity, and other economic conditions affecting the milk supply and demand for milk and shall consider the prices for milk in the different markets of the commonwealth which will best protect the milk industry in the commonwealth and insure a supply of pure, fresh milk adequate to cover consumer needs.

MINIMUM PRICES TO PRODUCERS.

Section 11. (a) The board, after making an examination and investigation authorized by this chapter, and after hearing held after due notice, shall by its order fix the minimum prices to be paid by milk dealers to other milk dealers, and to producers and consumers for milk received, purchased, stored, manufactured, processed, sold, distributed or otherwise handled within the commonwealth, and the terms and conditions under and times at which such prices are to be paid.

Board to fix minimum prices.

(b) Orders relative to such minimum prices shall apply to the locality in which the milk in question is produced or to the market in which such milk is sold, or to both, and may

Classification,
etc., of grades

vary in different localities or markets according to the varying and differing conditions therein. Any such order may classify such milk by such forms, classes, grades or uses as the board may deem advisable and may specify the minimum prices therefor, and may require that producers of milk purchased or received under such provisions shall be paid for all such milk on the basis of the class, grade or use in which it is ultimately sold by milk dealers.

Sharing of value between milk dealers, etc., and producers.

(c) Each such order may provide rules and regulations for the sharing of the value of milk sold, used or disposed of in each class, grade or use, between milk dealers who are also producers, and the producers from whom milk is received or purchased by such dealers, in proportion, to their respective deliveries of milk.

Petition to establish
prices.

Section 12. Upon petition in writing, with an affidavit that it is signed by not less than fifty-one per cent of the Massachusetts producers who, during the month of April in the license year next preceding that in which such petition is filed, delivered milk for sale or distribution as fluid milk in any market, requesting the board to establish minimum prices, wholesale or retail, or both, for milk for such market, and if, upon making such examination and investigation as is authorized by this chapter, and after public hearing held after due notice, the board finds at the close of such hearing that such petition is signed by not less than fifty-one per cent of such producers who, during said month or such subsequent month as the board may find is a more representative period, delivered milk for sale or distribution as fluid milk in said market, that the price to the producer established under authority of this chapter or by any agreement, license, regulation or order made or issued pursuant to any federal law, cannot otherwise be maintained, and that the maintenance of such price is necessary in order to ensure a regular, continuous and adequate supply of fresh, pure milk sufficient to meet the requirements of said market and to protect the public health therein, the board may declare, subject to approval of the milk regulation board, that a state of emergency exists. The board may thereon issue such orders, rules and regulations as may be necessary, including the fixing by official order of minimum wholesale or retail prices, or both, for milk sold within the market affected, irrespective of where such milk is produced. The board may in like manner at any time alter, revise, amend or rescind the prices so fixed. Any such action shall be reviewed by the board at least once in each year, or at any time on the order of the governor or on the request of the milk regulation board. Due notice shall be given of any such review. Every price fixed pursuant to this section, and any alteration, revision or amendment thereof, shall be fair, just and reasonable and shall be published as provided in section twenty-two.

ENTRY, INSPECTION OF RECORDS AND REPORTS.

Section 13. (a) For the purpose of administering this chapter, any member of the board, the director, or any employee or other representative designated by the board or by him for the purpose, may enter, at all reasonable hours, every place where milk is being produced, stored, bottled or otherwise packaged, processed, sold or otherwise handled for sale or distribution. Any such person may also, at all reasonable hours, inspect and verify by reference to the actual operations and transactions all books and records relating to milk in any place within the commonwealth for the purpose of ascertaining facts required for proper administration of this chapter.

Entry on premises for inspection, etc.

(b) All milk dealers required to be licensed under this chapter, their affiliates and subsidiaries, shall from time to time furnish to the director such information as the board may by order, rule or regulation require, upon and in conformity to forms or reports approved by the board and supplied by the director, for the purpose of enabling the director to administer and enforce this chapter and the orders, rules and regulations made by the board thereunder. All such reports shall be on oath or made under the penalties of perjury.

Licenses to furnish certain information to director.

(c) Each milk dealer required to be licensed under this chapter shall permit any member of the board, the director, or any employee or other representative designated for the purpose by the board or by him, at all reasonable hours, to enter any place occupied or controlled by such milk dealer where milk is produced, stored, bottled or otherwise packaged, pasteurized, processed, sold or otherwise handled. Each such dealer shall at all reasonable hours identify and make available to any such person all books and records relating to milk or to such milk dealer's business which are in his possession or custody or under his control, and permit such person to inspect and verify the same as provided in subsection (a).

Milk dealers to permit entry on premises of members of board.

(d) The information obtained by any inspection authorized or reports required by this chapter or by similar provisions of earlier law shall be treated as confidential and shall not be disclosed by any person except as may be required in the proper administration of this chapter; provided, that the board may use such information together with other similar information, for compilation and publication of statistics of the milk industry in this commonwealth. Such statistics shall not contain the name of, or disclose, by inference or otherwise, information obtained from the books and records of any milk dealer.

Information obtained by inspection, etc., to be confidential.

Discounts,
rebates, etc.,
prohibited.

(c) After the board shall have fixed the price to be charged or paid for milk, whether by form, class, grade or use, no milk dealer shall purchase, receive, sell or distribute or offer to purchase, receive, sell or distribute milk at any price less than such price as shall have been made applicable to the particular transaction; and no method or device shall be lawful whereby milk is purchased, received, sold or distributed, or offered to be purchased, received, sold or distributed, at a price less than such price whether by discount, rebate, free service, advertising allowance, or by a combined price for such milk together with another commodity or service, as a result of which the total price for the milk and such other commodity or service is less than the aggregate of the prices for the same when sold or offered for sale or performed separately, or otherwise.

Same subject.

(d) No person shall sell within the commonwealth any milk, or render any service in connection with the sale or distribution of milk, at a price less than the cost of such milk or service, including, in the case of milk sold, the original purchase price thereof, and in every instance all regular direct or indirect elements of cost of service, physical handling and financial investment in the milk in question. No milk dealer shall use any method or device, whether by discount or rebate, free service, advertising allowance, or by a combined price for such milk together with another commodity or service, as a result of which the total price for the milk and other commodity or service is less than the aggregate of the prices for the same when sold or offered for sale or performed separately, or otherwise. In the case of any person effecting sales of milk which has not been purchased, there shall be included as a part of the cost of such milk, in lieu of the original purchase price thereof, an amount equal to the purchase price which would have been payable under this chapter or under similar provisions of earlier law and the orders, rules and regulations of the board made thereunder, if such person had purchased such milk within the commonwealth.

Section 15. (a) No sale of milk by a co-operative association to a milk dealer in any market shall be made at less than the applicable minimum prices, terms and conditions of sale as set forth in the orders of the board for milk bought directly from producers who are non-members of a co-operative association.

(b) When the net return to be made for milk by a co-operative association to its members is below the net applicable return for milk as fixed by the orders of the board for a non-member of a co-operative association, said co-operative association shall submit in writing to the board a full and complete statement in detail, setting forth the amount of the deductions which have been made from the fixed minimum prices of the board and, in addition, a detailed statement of such deductions shall accompany every such payment to the member.

PROCEDURE.

Section 16. Chap. 702 AN ACT GRANTING THE CONSENT OF THE COMMONWEALTH TO THE ACQUISITION BY THE UNITED STATES OF CERTAIN LANDS IN THE COUNTIES OF NORFOLK AND PLYMOUTH FOR THE PURPOSES OF A NAVAL AMMUNITION DEPOT AND A LIGHTER-THAN-AIR BASE, SO CALLED, AND CEDING JURISDICTION OF SAID LANDS TO SAID UNITED STATES.

Emergency
preamble.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose which is to grant the consent of the commonwealth to the immediate acquisition of lands necessary for expanding the naval ammunition depot in the town of Hingham and for establishing a lighter-than-air base in the town of Weymouth and to cede jurisdiction over lands so acquired for the purposes of national defense, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public safety.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The consent of the commonwealth is hereby granted to the acquisition on or before April first, nineteen hundred and forty-three, by the United States of America, by purchase or condemnation, for the purpose of expanding the naval ammunition depot at Hingham, of a certain area shown on a plan filed in the office of the state secretary, entitled "Map of Approved Property Lines Extension of Naval Ammunition Depot, Hingham, Mass., property lines in Hingham, Norwell, Scituate (Plymouth county), Cohasset (Norfolk county), scale 400 feet to an inch, Whitman & Howard, Engineers, approved Sept. 13, 1941, H. E. Wilson, Commander, U. S. N., Public Works Officer, First Naval District", and dated September fifth, nineteen hundred and forty-one, and revised September seventeenth, nineteen hundred and forty-one, containing total area 3,747.63 acres. Like consent is hereby granted to the purchase, for the aforesaid purpose, of such portion of any parcel of land partly included within said area as lies outside the limits thereof; provided, that suitable plans of any such additional land so purchased have been filed in the office of the state secretary prior to the purchase thereof or shall be so filed within one year thereafter. The consent of the commonwealth is hereby granted to the acquisition on or before said April first by said United States, by purchase or condemnation, of a certain area of approximately one and eight tenths square miles located in the southerly part of Weymouth, the northwesterly corner of Rockland and the northeasterly corner of Abington, for the purpose of establishing a lighter-than-air base, so called; provided, that suitable plans of the area to be acquired have been filed in the office of the state secretary prior to the acquisition thereof or shall be so filed within one year thereafter. Railroad tracks constructed on said first mentioned area may cross at grade the state highway known as Route 3A, in accordance with plans approved by the department of public works, and section one hundred and two of chapter one hundred and sixty of the General Laws shall not apply in such case.

SECTION 2. Jurisdiction over any area referred to in section one which is acquired by said United States is hereby granted and ceded to it, but upon the express condition that the commonwealth shall retain concurrent jurisdiction with said United States in and over such area, in so far that all civil processes, and such criminal processes as may issue under the authority of the commonwealth against any person or persons charged with crimes committed without said area and all processes for the collection of taxes levied under authority of the laws of the commonwealth, including the service of warrants, may be executed thereon in the same manner as though this consent and cession had not been granted; and exclusive jurisdiction over any such area or any part thereof shall revert in the commonwealth whenever it shall cease to be used by said United States for the purpose for which it was acquired as aforesaid.

SECTION 3. The department of public works is hereby authorized to make all contracts and agreements and do all other things necessary to co-operate with said United States in laying out, constructing and improving public ways to replace public ways now located in any area mentioned in section one. Land or rights in land may be taken for such public ways by eminent domain under chapter seventy-nine of the General Laws by said department in behalf of the commonwealth, or in behalf of the town in which the land lies; provided, that the commonwealth shall be liable for damages for all such takings and that there shall be no liability upon any town therefor.

Said department may use for the purposes of this section any funds which may be available for the construction and maintenance of state highways, and all reimbursements from said United States for sums expended for the purposes of this section shall be received by the state treasurer and shall be expended upon the order or approval of said department without specific appropriation.

SECTION 4. The Trustees of Public Reservations, a Massachusetts charitable corporation, incorporated by chapter three hundred and fifty-two of the acts of eighteen hundred and ninety-one, is hereby authorized and empowered to sell to said United States for such consideration as it sees fit any or all of the lands or rights owned by it within the areas mentioned in section one. The proceeds received by said corporation from any sale or condemnation of any such lands or rights shall be devoted to the purposes for which it was incorporated.

Chap. 708 AN ACT TO MEET CERTAIN CONTINGENCIES ARISING IN CONNECTION WITH THE SERVICE OF PUBLIC OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES AND CERTAIN OTHER PERSONS IN THE MILITARY OR NAVAL FORCES OF THE UNITED STATES DURING THE PRESENT NATIONAL EMERGENCY.

Emergency
preamble.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which in part is to protect the rights of certain persons in the military or naval service of the United States and to facilitate the temporary appointment of persons to perform their duties in their absence, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Any person who, on or after January first, nineteen hundred and forty, shall have tendered his resignation from an office or position in the service of the commonwealth, or any political subdivision thereof, or otherwise terminated such service, for the purpose of serving in the military or naval forces of the United States and who does or did so serve or was or shall be rejected for such service, shall, except as hereinafter provided, be deemed to be or to have been on leave of absence; and no such person shall be deemed to have resigned from his office in the service of the commonwealth, or any political subdivision thereof, or to have terminated such service, until the expiration of one year from the termination of said military or naval service by him.

SECTION 2. Any person referred to in section one who was or shall be separated from the service of the commonwealth, or any political subdivision thereof, while holding an office or position classified under chapter thirty-one of the General Laws shall, if he so requests in writing to the appointing authority within one year after the termination of his said military or naval service, and if, within said time, he also files with the division of civil service the certificate of a registered physician that he is not physically disabled or incapacitated for performing the duties of the office or position previously held by him, be reinstated therein without civil service examination and without loss of seniority or other rights; provided, that if the office or position formerly held by him has been filled prior to the effective date of this act by a permanent appointment, he shall be employed in a similar position in the same or in some other department. All appointments, transfers and promotions made on account of such leaves of absence shall be temporary only and the person so appointed, transferred or promoted shall be known as a military substitute; provided, that, notwithstanding any provision of said chapter thirty-one to the contrary, he may continue to serve in such office or position until the incumbent is reinstated therein or until the time within which he has a right to be reinstated has expired, and if the incumbent has not been reinstated as provided herein said military substitute shall continue in the position as though regularly appointed and his seniority rights shall date from his appointment as such military substitute. In the event that a permanent vacancy not caused by or related to the absence of the incumbent in said military or naval service occurs in a position of the same or similar rank or grade as that then occupied by a military substitute, said military substitute may be appointed to such permanent vacancy.

SECTION 3. Any person who is permanently appointed to an office or position classified under said chapter thirty-one after certification from an eligible list, but, before commencing to serve therein, enters said military or naval service, shall be permanently employed in such office or position upon the termination of his said military or naval service, subject to a probationary period of six months; provided, that he so requests in writing, within three months after such termination of service, and files with the division of civil service the certificate of a registered physician that he is not physically disabled or incapacitated for performing the duties of the office or position. Any appointment, transfer or promotion to fill such office or position while he is so serving shall be temporary only and shall be filled by a military substitute who shall hold such office or position subject to the same limitations and with the same rights as a military substitute appointed under section two.

SECTION 4. Any person whose name is on any eligible list or register of the division of civil service at the time of his commencing said military or naval service shall, upon his request in writing filed with the director of civil service within one year after the termination of said service, be continued on or restored to such list or register for a period following such request equal to the remainder of the term of his eligibility thereon at the time he commenced said military or naval service; and any person who otherwise becomes entitled to have his name placed on an eligible list or register on account of an examination or registration prior to commencing such service shall, upon a like request in writing filed within a similar period, be entitled to have his name placed upon the proper eligible list or register as of the date of such request, and it shall thereafter remain thereon for the full regular period of eligibility provided for by the civil service law and rules; provided, that he files with the director of civil service the certificate of a registered physician that he is not physically disabled or incapacitated for performing the duties of the office or position.

SECTION 5. In case said military or naval service of an individual holding an office or position in the classified civil service or appointed to such office or position, or whose name is on an eligible list or register, prejudices the rights of such individual under the provisions of chapter thirty-one of the General Laws, and such rights are not specifically protected by this act, the director of civil service may, with the approval of the governor and council, and acting separately in the case of each individual, take such action as will in his judgment protect such rights.

SECTION 6. Any person referred to in section one who was or shall be separated from the service of the commonwealth or any political subdivision thereof while holding an office or position not subject to chapter thirty-one of the General Laws, shall, if he so requests in writing to the appointing authority within one year after the termination of his said military or naval service, be reinstated or re-employed in said office or position; provided, that, in case he was appointed for a fixed term, the term has not expired; and provided, further, that, if so required by the appointing authority, he files the certificate of a registered physician that he is not disabled or incapacitated for performing the duties of the office or position.

SECTION 7. In case any officer of a department, division, board or commission of the commonwealth whose appointment is not subject to chapter thirty-one of the General Laws and whose duties are not otherwise authorized by law to be performed by another person, is unable to perform the duties of his office by reason of said military or naval service, the head of such department, division, board or commission may, by an instrument in writing, designate another person in the employ of such department, division, board or commission to perform the duties of such officer during such service, but the person so designated shall have no authority to make permanent appointments or removals. Every such designation shall be subject to approval by the governor, and shall remain in force and effect until terminated by the return of the regular officer or employee or until revoked by the head of such department, division, board or commission, or by the governor. Any person who, while holding a position subject to said chapter thirty-one, is designated to perform the duties of another as provided in this section shall have and retain all his rights under said chapter thirty-one, including seniority, and when such designation ceases to be in force and effect he shall be reinstated without examination in the position previously held by him. Any appointment, promotion or transfer of any person to perform the duties of a person so designated shall be temporary and shall not extend beyond the date when such designation ceases to be in force and effect.

SECTION 8. No person referred to in section one who has been or shall be separated from his office or position while a member of a contributory retirement system shall, by reason of such separation, be considered to have terminated his membership in such system until the expiration of one year after the termination of his said military or naval service, nor shall such a person while so separated from his office or position be entitled to withdraw from such system his accumulated deductions until after the expiration of one year after the termination of his said military or naval service.

SECTION 9. Any person referred to in section one shall, when reinstated or re-employed in his former position or in a similar position as provided by this act, have credited to him as creditable service under any contributory retirement system or under any other pension or retirement law under which he has actual or inchoate rights, the period of his said military or naval service. If such person remained a member of any contributory retirement system and has not withdrawn therefrom his accumulated deductions, or, if such person has withdrawn such deductions and shall redeposit the same or make arrangements for so doing by installments, as provided by law, the commonwealth or political subdivision thereof, as the case may be, shall, at the time of such reinstatement or re-employment, or as soon thereafter as an appropriation therefor is made, pay into the annuity savings fund of such retirement system the amount which said person would have paid into said fund had his employment in the service of the commonwealth or political subdivision thereof not been interrupted by his said military or naval service; provided, that any sum so paid by the commonwealth or any political subdivision thereof shall be used only to provide an increased retirement allowance of the person on whose account such payment is made, and in case of his later separation from the service otherwise than by retirement the said sum, together with interest thereon, shall be used to reduce the next ensuing appropriation for the payment of pensions.

SECTION 10. In case the mayor of a city is unable to perform the duties of his office by reason of said military or naval service, the person upon whom his duties devolve in his absence shall, notwithstanding any limiting provision of a general or special law, possess all the rights and powers, perform all of the duties and be subject to all of the obligations of mayor of such city, except that he shall have no power to make permanent appointments or removals. The person temporarily performing the duties of mayor under such circumstances shall receive a salary equal to one half the salary of the mayor, which sum shall be deducted from and charged against the salary of the mayor.

SECTION 11. In case a selectman or any other elected town officer is unable to perform the duties of his office by reason of said military or naval service, a majority of the members of a board established as hereinafter provided may in writing appoint an acting officer who in his absence shall possess all the rights and powers, perform all the duties and be subject to all the obligations of said office until the expiration of the term of the absent officer or until his return, whichever first occurs. Said board shall consist of the selectmen, the town clerk, the town treasurer, and the moderator elected for a term, if there is one so elected; provided, that any such officer shall not be a member of such board when his office is being filled. No member of any such board shall have more than one vote.

A person appointed under the provisions of this section shall not receive compensation from the town for service as such acting officer but his compensation therefor, if any, shall be paid by the absent officer. The town treasurer when so authorized by the absent officer may make payment to such acting officer and in such case shall charge such payments to the account of the salary provided for the absent officer.

SECTION 12. The term "elected town officer", as used in section eleven shall mean an officer elected by and from all the voters of a town and shall include a member of a body, board or commission, including the school committee.

SECTION 13. In computing the period of five years of continuous service required under section forty-nine A of chapter thirty-one of the General Laws of an incumbent of a municipal office who has entered said military or naval service and returns to said office within one year after the termination of said service, the period between his entry into said service and his return to said office shall be counted.

SECTION 14. In case any medical examiner or associate medical examiner is unable to perform his duties by reason of said military or naval service, said duties may be performed by any other medical examiner or associate medical examiner designated for that purpose by the district attorney within whose district the temporary vacancy occurs, and any medical examiner or associate medical examiner so designated shall, within the limits of the county within which he is so designated to act, have all the rights, powers and obligations of medical examiner.

SECTION 15. Chap. 713 AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC UTILITIES TO REGULATE RATES FOR THE TRANSPORTATION OF PERSONS OR PROPERTY WITHIN THE COMMONWEALTH BY COMMON CARRIERS BY AIRCRAFT.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

G. L. (Ter. Ed.), 159, new § 14A, inserted.

Chapter one hundred and fifty-nine of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section fourteen, as appearing in the Tercentenary Edition, the following new section:— Section 14A. Every common carrier by aircraft maintaining an established service over regular scheduled routes for general public service shall publish and file with the department and keep open for public inspection tariffs containing all its rates and charges for transportation of persons or property, and all services in connection therewith, between points within the commonwealth. Such rates and charges shall be stated in lawful money of the United States. The department may reject any such tariff filed with it which is not consistent with this section and with its orders, rules and regulations made thereunder.

Rates of common carriers by aircraft regulated.

Records and inspection of.

Every such carrier shall establish, observe and enforce just and reasonable rates, charges and classifications, and reasonable regulations and practices relating thereto, which shall become effective on a date fixed by such carrier, which date shall be at least thirty days after the filing of the tariff containing the same, unless suspended by the department prior to its effective date upon complaint of any person or body politic, or by the department on its own motion; provided, that such a rate may be established to become effective within said thirty days in order to meet the then existing rate of any competing common carrier, in which case it may become effective upon the effective date of the rate of such competing carrier or at any time thereafter if established thereafter, upon the filing of a tariff or supplement thereto, consistent with such reasonable orders, rules and regulations as the department may deem necessary pertaining to the form of tariff schedules, the time and manner of filing thereof, the suspension of rates before the same become effective and hearings upon the validity of any filed or existing rate or rates; and provided, further, that the department, for cause shown, may allow publication of rates, or of changes therein, upon notice less than hereinbefore specified, or may modify the requirements of this section with respect to posting and filing of tariffs, either in particular instances or by general order applicable to special or peculiar circumstances or conditions.

No such carrier shall charge, demand, collect or receive compensation for transportation, or for any service in connection therewith, between the points enumerated in such tariff, differing from, or other than, the rates and charges specified in the tariffs in effect at the time; and no such carrier shall refund or remit in any manner or by any device, directly or indirectly, or through any agent or broker, or otherwise, any portion of the rates or charges so specified, or extend to any person any privilege or facilities for transportation except such as are specified in its tariffs.

The department, upon complaint of any person, or upon its own motion, after due notice and a hearing, may allow or disallow any filed or existing rates and may alter or prescribe the rates in connection with the transportation of persons, or of any or all classes of property, by common

In carrying out the provisions of this section the department shall give due consideration, among other factors, to the inherent advantages of transportation by such carrier, to the effect of any rates under consideration upon the movement of traffic by such carriers, to the need in the public interest of adequate and efficient transportation service by such carriers, to the cost of service and to the need of revenues sufficient to enable such carriers under honest, economical and efficient management to provide such service.

No common carrier by aircraft shall engage in the transportation of persons or property between points within the commonwealth unless the rates and charges upon which the same are or is transported by said carrier shall have been filed and published in accordance with this section.

SECTION 9. In establishing the cost of cigarettes to the retailer or wholesaler, the invoice cost of said cigarettes purchased at a forced, bankrupt, closeout sale, or other sale outside of the ordinary channels of trade may not be used as a basis for justifying a price lower than one based upon the replacement cost of the cigarettes to the retailer or wholesaler within thirty days prior to the date of sale, in the quantity last purchased through the ordinary channels of trade.

SECTION 10. Where the particular trade, of which the person complained against is a member, has an established cost survey for the trading area in which the offense is committed, the said cost survey shall be deemed competent evidence to be used in proving the cost of the person complained against within the provisions of this act.

(b) Whenever the governor has proclaimed the existence of such a state of emergency, he may employ every agency and all members of every department and division of the government of the commonwealth to protect the lives and property of its citizens and to enforce its laws. Any member of any such department or division so employed shall be entitled to the protection of existing applicable provisions of law relative to any type of service of the commonwealth in emergencies.

(c) After such proclamation has been made, the governor may, in the event of any disaster or shortage making such action necessary for the protection of the public and with the approval of the council, take possession: (1) of any land or buildings, machinery or equipment; (2) of any horses, vehicles, motor vehicles, aeroplanes, ships, boats or any other means of conveyance, rolling stock of steam or electric railroads or of street railways; (3) of any cattle, poultry and any provisions for man or beast, and any fuel, gasoline or other means of propulsion which may be necessary or convenient for the use of the military or naval forces of the commonwealth or of the United States, or for the better protection or welfare of the commonwealth or its inhabitants. He may use and employ all property of which possession is so taken, for such times and in such manner as he shall deem for the interests of the commonwealth or its inhabitants, and may in particular, when in his opinion the public exigency so requires, sell or distribute gratuitously to or among any or all of the inhabitants of the commonwealth anything taken under clause (3) of this paragraph. He shall, with the approval of the council, award reasonable compensation to the owners of any property of which he may take possession under the provisions of this section, and for its use, and for any injury thereto or destruction thereof caused by such use.

(d) Any owner of property of which possession has been taken under paragraph (c) to whom no award has been made, or who is dissatisfied with the amount awarded him by the governor, with the approval of the council, as compensation, may file a petition in the superior court to have the amount to which he is entitled by way of damages determined. The petitioner and the commonwealth shall severally have the right to have such damages assessed by a jury upon making claim in such manner as may be provided by law or by the rules of said court.

(e) Such petition may be filed in the county in which the petitioner lives or has his usual place of business, if the petitioner lives or has a usual place of business in the commonwealth, otherwise in the county of Suffolk. The petition shall be brought within one year after the date when possession of the property was taken under paragraph (c), except that if the owner of the property is in the military or naval service of the United States at the time of the taking, it shall be brought within three years after said date. Except as is otherwise provided herein, such petition shall be heard and determined in accordance with the provisions of chapter two hundred and fifty-eight of the General Laws.

(f) Upon such petition, full damages shall be awarded whether or not the same had fully accrued at the time of the filing of the petition, and, whenever necessary, the hearing on the petition shall, on the application of either the petitioner or the commonwealth, be continued for assessment of damages until the same are fully ascertained.

SECTION 7. The governor shall have full power and authority to co-operate with the federal authorities and with the governors of other states in matters pertaining to the common defense or to the common welfare, and also so to co-operate with the military and naval forces of the United States and of the other states, and to take any measures which he may deem proper to carry into effect any request of the President of the United States for action looking to the national defense or to the public safety.

SECTION 8. (a) After any proclamation provided for in section six (a) shall have been made, the governor may, whenever he considers that the public safety so requires, make such orders or regulations for air raid precautions and for the preservation of life and property as he may determine to be advisable, and may appoint such persons as he deems necessary to carry out said orders and regulations.

(b) So far as necessary to insure that blackouts or other civilian defense measures established by the governor under any regulations provided by him shall be effective and complete, the provisions of orders made under this section during the period for which they are in force shall supersede any laws, rules, regulations, ordinances or by-laws to the extent that they are inconsistent therewith. Any person authorized to enforce such orders or regulations may call upon any police officer for assistance in the enforcement thereof. In order to render any order or regulation established under this section effective, and in order more fully to provide for the protection of life and property within the commonwealth, the governor may take over the control of any public property, real or personal, during the periods of such blackouts, and may delegate the power to take such control to any persons designated by him in such orders or regulations.

(c) Any violation of any order or regulation made under this section shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars, or both.

SECTION 8A. The provisions of this act and the powers granted hereunder shall take effect and be exercised only in so far as they do not contravene any law of the United States or the exercise of any lawful power by the President.

SECTION 9. If any part, subdivision or section of this act shall be declared unconstitutional, the validity of the remaining parts thereof shall not be affected thereby.

SECTION 10. This act may be cited as the Commonwealth Emergency Defense Act of 1941.

SECTION 11. This act, except as otherwise provided herein, shall remain in force until February first, nineteen hundred and forty-three or until the governor, with the advice and consent of the council, proclaims that the emergency is ended, whichever first shall occur; provided, that the emergency powers given to the governor by sections six, seven and eight under any proclamation shall expire sixty days after the making of such proclamation unless before that time the general court has ratified and approved the same.

SECTION 12. For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act, such sums as may be necessary may be expended from the amount appropriated by item 0401-33 of section two of chapter four hundred and nineteen of the acts of the current year and subject to the provisions contained in said item. After the end of the fiscal year ending November thirtieth, nineteen hundred and forty-two and until the general court provides otherwise, the Massachusetts emergency commission may, subject to the provisions of said item 0401-33, incur liabilities, in any month, not in excess of the largest monthly expenditure during said fiscal year.

SECTION 8. Pending receipt of federal funds for any of the foregoing projects, the metropolitan district water supply commission shall make borings and surveys and prepare plans and specifications for each of the foregoing projects only with the approval of the governor, and shall have such powers as may be proper and reasonably necessary to carry out said operations or plans, specifications, surveys and borings. For the purpose of carrying out said work, the metropolitan district water supply commission may expend, from the amount authorized by section one, a sum not exceeding four per cent of the estimated cost of the aforementioned projects, except that there shall be deducted from said allowable expenditures of four per cent an amount equal to the total sums expended by and liabilities incurred by the metropolitan district commission under authority granted by section nine of chapter five hundred and twelve of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-nine. The metropolitan district commission shall upon request, transfer to the metropolitan district water supply commission all plans, specifications, surveys and borings heretofore carried on by it in connection with projects provided for by this act.

AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE FURNISHING OF WATER TO TOWNS IN THE METROPOLITAN WATER DISTRICT AND CERTAIN
OTHER TOWNS. Chap. 727

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat one of the principal purposes thereof, which is to make water available as soon as possible in the present condition of drouth, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public health and convenience.

Emergency
preamble.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The metropolitan district commission, on application of any town, water company or water supply, water, fire or fire and water district on or before June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and forty-three, may, with the approval of the department of public health, furnish water from its system of metropolitan water works to any such town, water company or district on payment of such sum as said commission may determine, and may continue to furnish the same notwithstanding any provision of section forty of chapter forty of the General Laws. Payment by each town, water company or district so supplied for such water shall include its fair share, as determined by said commission, of the cost of connection which may, if and as so determined, be distributed over a period not exceeding ten years.

SECTION 2. On or before February first in the year nineteen hundred and forty-two, the department of public health shall determine, in the case of each town which is not a member of, but is eligible to membership in, the metropolitan water district by reason of its location, and of each town not a member and not so eligible which is located so that it can reasonably be supplied with water from any distributing reservoir of said district, the Quabbin and Wachusett reservoirs of said district not being considered distributing reservoirs for the purposes of this act, and which has at any time requested or been furnished a supply of water from said district, the maximum continuous rate at which the water supply sources of said town, within the meaning of section sixteen of chapter ninety-two of the General Laws, may be safely depended upon to furnish a suitable supply of water during the next succeeding three years, not including water supplied from any other town, water company or district, or water diverted from the watershed of the Charles river in excess of amounts specifically permitted by legislative provisions, or any water obtained under section forty of chapter forty of the General Laws. Coincidentally with such determination, said department shall report to the metropolitan district commission each of said towns which it finds cannot be so supplied continuously with a quantity ten per cent in excess of its average consumption during the three previous calendar years, and shall notify each of said towns of its finding with respect thereto.

SECTION 3. Any town having an established water system and the inadequacy of the water supply of which has been so reported by said department may, with the approval of said department, increase its supply of water from its own sources by taking water from authorized sources which are not already appropriated for the purposes of a public water supply; provided, that application for such approval is made on or before June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and forty-three.

SECTION 4. Any town so reported, and any town not so reported which is so located that it can reasonably be supplied with water from any distributing reservoir as defined in section two of this act, shall, upon its application therefor on or before June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and forty-three, be provided forthwith by the metropolitan water district with a connection to supply its immediate needs for water, unless already adequately connected. Each such town shall be assessed and pay, as hereinafter provided, its fair share of the cost of said connection as determined by the metropolitan district commission and certified to the state treasurer, which may, if and as determined by said commission, be distributed over a period not exceeding ten years; and each town so reported, and each town not so reported which is so provided with a connection, whether or not located within ten miles of the state house as provided in section ten of chapter ninety-two of the General Laws, shall be eligible to membership in the metropolitan water district. Any town which already has a connection with the metropolitan water system, except any such town which shall, not earlier than January sixth, nineteen hundred and forty-two nor later than the March first next following, have notified the metropolitan district commission that it desires to discontinue such connection, and any town which makes application for such connection under any provision of this act, shall annually, until it becomes a member of said district, be assessed and pay, as hereinafter provided, a premium equal to three hundredths of one per cent of its valuation for the preceding year.

For the purposes of this act, the word "valuation" shall mean the taxable valuation last established by the general court as a basis of apportionment for state and county taxes, and the word "town" shall include city.

In order to provide funds to construct any water supply connection provided under this act, in anticipation of the payment therefor by the town to be connected, the state treasurer, with the approval of the governor, may borrow from time to time, on the credit of the commonwealth, such amounts as may be certified by the metropolitan district commission to be necessary to provide such temporary funds, not exceeding two hundred and fifty thousand dollars in any calendar year, and the state treasurer may issue and renew notes of the commonwealth therefor, bearing interest payable at such times and at such rates as shall be fixed by him with the approval of the governor. Such notes shall be issued for such terms as the governor may recommend to the general court in accordance with section 3 of Article LXII of the amendments to the constitution of the commonwealth.

SECTION 5. The state treasurer shall annually notify each town, not a member of the metropolitan water district, assessed under the provisions of section four of this act, of the amount so assessed, and the same shall be paid by the town to the commonwealth at the time required for the payment of and as a part of its state tax. The proceeds from all such payments shall be used to defray the cost, in the case of each such town, of the water supply connection provided, and any balance shall be applied by the state treasurer to meet the expenses of maintenance and operation of the metropolitan water works.

SECTION 6. Any town which has applied for a water connection under this act on or before June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and forty-three, and any town heretofore eligible, or made eligible by section four of this act, for admission to the metropolitan water district which has not so made application for a water connection under this act may, upon application for admission to said district on or before said date, be admitted under and subject to the provisions of this section; provided, that said town agrees to discontinue the use of its local water supply sources upon admission. Any town admitted to the metropolitan water district shall share with the other members the total district assessment for the calendar year of its admission, except that, if it is admitted too late to be so included in the assessment for that year, it shall pay for the water furnished it by the district during the balance of that year at a rate equal to the average assessment for that year determined by dividing the aggregate total of the net assessments for that year against all members by the aggregate total of the net quantity of water furnished by the district during the preceding year to all members. The entrance fee of any town so admitted to said district shall, regardless of any provision of section ten of chapter ninety-two of the General Laws, be that determined by the metropolitan district commission, but not more than the said entering town's proportionate share, determined as hereinafter provided, of the aggregate total assessments that have been made, prior to the first assessment to be shared by the entering town, on account of the retirement of bonds issued to finance the construction of works by the metropolitan district water supply commission, less the net water debt on December first, just prior to said first assessment shared, on account of the cost of works constructed by the metropolitan district commission, or its predecessors. Such proportionate share of the net sum to be apportioned shall be determined by taking only one third of said net sum, apportioning this among all towns which are members of the metropolitan water district and all towns which are not members but eligible to membership, including any towns eligible under section four of this act, in proportion to their respective valuations for the preceding year, and deducting from the entering town's share a credit of the aggregate total of any premiums paid annually under section four of this act, except that such entrance fee shall in no event be less than three hundredths of one per cent of the entering town's valuation for the preceding year.

SECTION 7. For the purpose of providing funds to pay the fee for being admitted to the metropolitan water district under this act, a town may borrow sums not exceeding, in the aggregate, the amount of such fee, and may issue bonds or notes therefor, which shall bear on their face the words "City [or Town] of _____ Water Loan, Act of 1941". Such loans shall be payable within thirty years from their dates or within such shorter time as may be fixed by the director of accounts in the department of corporations and taxation. Indebtedness incurred under this act shall be outside the statutory limits of indebtedness provided by chapter forty-four of the General Laws and, except as provided herein, shall be subject to all provisions of said chapter forty-four.

Approved October 31, 1941.

“Person”, an individual, a partnership, society, association, joint stock company, corporation and any combination of individuals, and shall include fiduciaries and receivers.

“Taxable charge”, any amount including cover and other charges, for which the purchaser is charged as a total one dollar or more, charged for meals furnished at any restaurant, eating house, hotel, drug store, club, resort or other place at which meals or food are regularly served to the public.

Section 2. There is hereby levied and there shall be collected and paid a tax equivalent to five per cent of the amount charged for all meals, including cover and other charges, if any, for which the purchaser is charged as a total one dollar or more, furnished at any restaurant, eating house, hotel, drug store, club, resort or other place at which meals or food are regularly served to the public. The commissioner shall prescribe the method of determining the portion of an entire charge which is applicable to meals in the event that such entire charge is in part for meals and in part for lodging or any other item or service. The excise shall be paid by the taxpayer to the commissioner at the time and in the manner hereinafter provided.

Section 3. Every taxpayer shall register with the commissioner and pay to him the sum of one dollar, upon receipt of which the commissioner shall issue a numbered identification certificate in such form as he may determine, attesting that such registration has been made. The certificate so issued shall remain in effect so long as the taxpayer is engaged in the business of serving meals to the public and has complied with the provisions of this chapter. No taxpayer shall on and after January first, nineteen hundred and forty-two, engage in serving meals to the public without such registration certificate. Violation of any provision of this section shall be punishable by a fine of not less than two hundred nor more than five hundred dollars.

Every such return shall be filed within ten days after the expiration of the period covered thereby; provided, that the commissioner may extend the time for filing. The excise for the period for which a return is required to be filed shall be due and payable on the date determined for the filing of the return for such period, without regard to whether the return is filed or whether the return which is filed correctly shows the amount of tax due. A taxpayer failing to pay the excise assessed by the commissioner under this chapter shall pay interest at the rate of six per cent per annum from the time when such excise was payable until paid, if such payment is made before the commencement of proceedings for the recovery thereof, and file returns.

Section 7. If a taxpayer, having failed to file a return or, having filed an incorrect or insufficient return, without reasonable excuse fails to file an original or corrected return, as the case may require, within twenty days after the giving of notice to him by the commissioner of his delinquency, the commissioner, at any time within three years from the date when the return should have been filed, shall determine the amount due. The taxpayer, within ten days after the expiration of said period of twenty days may appeal from the decision of the commissioner to the appellate tax board, whose decision shall be final. The commissioner or, in the case of appeal, the appellate tax board, having made such determination, shall give notice to the delinquent taxpayer of the amount determined to be due, and the taxpayer shall forthwith after the giving of such notice pay to the commissioner the amount so determined with interest at six per cent from the time when the original correct return should have been filed.

Same subject.

Section 8. A taxpayer who fails to file a return required by this chapter when due shall forfeit to the commonwealth and shall pay to the commissioner on demand the sum of five dollars for each day of delay after written notice by the commissioner of such failure. The commissioner may remit the whole or any part of said penalty.

Penalty.

Section 9. A taxpayer who violates any provision of this chapter for which no other penalty is provided, or who files a false return, shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

Sums, etc., to be credited to old age assistance fund.

Section 10. All sums received under this chapter as excise, penalties or forfeitures, interest, costs of suit and fines shall be paid into the treasury of the commonwealth and shall be credited to the old age assistance fund established under section eleven of chapter one hundred and eighteen A; provided, that one third of the sums received under this chapter shall be distributed to cities and towns on a basis determined by the commissioner of public welfare and the commissioner of corporations and taxation, to be applied only to meet their share of assistance furnished under chapter one hundred and eighteen A.

SECTION 3. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved October 31, 1941.

Chap. 731 AN ACT TO APPORTION AND ASSESS FOR THE CURRENT YEAR A STATE TAX OF SIXTEEN MILLION FIVE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS AND FOR THE YEAR NINETEEN HUNDRED AND FORTY-TWO A STATE TAX OF FIFTEEN MILLION DOLLARS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

PART I.

SECTION 1. There shall be a state tax for the current year amounting in the aggregate to sixteen million five hundred thousand dollars. The cities and towns in the commonwealth shall be assessed and charged with, and shall pay, said tax in the proportions established for them, respectively, by chapter one hundred and forty-one of the acts of the current year, as amended by chapter six hundred and thirty-three of the acts of said year. The comptroller shall, as soon as may be, prepare a schedule showing the sum with which each city and town is charged in accordance with this part and transmit the same to the commissioner of corporations and taxation, who shall verify the sums appearing in such schedule and as soon as may be thereafter shall certify it as so verified to the state treasurer. A copy of the schedule as so verified shall be kept in the office of said commissioner and shall be open to public inspection.

SECTION 2. Upon receipt by the state treasurer from said commissioner of said schedule as verified and certified by him, said treasurer shall forthwith send his warrants to the selectmen or assessors of each city and town taxed as aforesaid, requiring them respectively to assess in the manner provided in section twenty-one of chapter fifty-nine of the General Laws, as most recently amended by section two of chapter three hundred and seventy-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-six, the sum so charged, and any other taxes or charges which may be due and payable to the commonwealth as specifically provided by law or as certified to him by the proper state board, department or commission, and to add the amount of such taxes and charges to the amount of city, town and county taxes to be assessed by them respectively on each city and town.

SECTION 3. The state treasurer in his warrant shall require the selectmen or assessors to pay, or issue severally their warrant or warrants requiring the treasurers of their several cities and towns to pay, to the state treasurer, on or before November twentieth in the current year, the sums with which their respective cities and towns are charged as provided in section one; and the selectmen or assessors, respectively, shall return a certificate of the names of the treasurers of their several cities and towns, with the sum which each may be required to collect, to the state treasurer at some time before September first in the current year.

SECTION 4. If the amount due from any city or town, as provided in this part, is not paid to the state treasurer within the time specified, the state treasurer shall notify the treasurer of such delinquent city or town, who shall pay into the treasury of the commonwealth, in addition to the tax, such further sum as would be equal to one per cent per month during the delinquency from and after November twentieth of the current year; and if the same remains unpaid after December first of the current year, an information may be filed by the state treasurer in the supreme judicial court, or before any justice thereof, against such delinquent city or town; and upon notice to such city or town, and a summary hearing thereon, a warrant of distress may issue against such city or town to enforce the payment of said taxes under such penalties as the court, or the justice thereof before whom the hearing is had, shall order. The state treasurer may deduct at any time from any moneys which may be due from the commonwealth to any city or town the whole or any part of the tax in this part apportioned or any other tax or charge which may be due to the commonwealth from such city or town, with the interest accrued thereon.

PART II.

SECTION 5. There shall be a state tax for the year nineteen hundred and forty-two amounting in the aggregate to fifteen million dollars. The cities and towns in the commonwealth shall be assessed and charged with, and shall pay, said tax in the proportions established for them, respectively, by chapter one hundred and forty-one of the acts of nineteen hundred and forty-one, as amended by chapter six hundred and thirty-three of the acts of said year. The comptroller shall, as soon as may be, prepare a schedule showing the sum with which each city and town is charged in accordance with this part and transmit the same to the commissioner of corporations and taxation, who shall verify the sums appearing in such schedule and as soon as may be thereafter shall certify it as so verified to the state treasurer. A copy of the schedule as so verified shall be kept in the office of said commissioner and shall be open to public inspection.

SECTION 6. Upon receipt by the state treasurer from said commissioner of said schedule as verified and certified by him, said treasurer shall forthwith send his warrants to the selectmen or assessors of each city and town taxed as aforesaid, requiring them respectively to assess in the manner provided in section twenty-one of chapter fifty-nine of the General Laws, as most recently amended by section two of chapter three hundred and seventy-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-six, the sum so charged, and any other taxes or charges which may be due and payable to the commonwealth as specifically provided by law or as certified to him by the proper state board, department or commission, and to add the amount of such taxes and charges to the amount of city, town and county taxes to be assessed by them respectively on each city and town.

SECTION 7. The state treasurer in his warrant shall require the selectmen or assessors to pay, or issue severally their warrant or warrants requiring the treasurers of their several cities and towns to pay, to the state treasurer, on or before November twentieth in the year nineteen hundred and forty-two, the sums with which their respective cities and towns are charged as provided in section five; and the selectmen or assessors, respectively, shall return a certificate of the names of the treasurers of their several cities and towns, with the sum which each may be required to collect, to the state treasurer at some time before September first in the year nineteen hundred and forty-two.

Two (2) Acts entitled, respectively, "An Act further regulating the hours of duty of permanent members of fire departments in certain cities and towns" (Chapter 638) and "An Act establishing an old age assistance fund and making certain miscellaneous changes in the old age assistance law, so called" (Chapter 729) were passed and laid before the governor for his approval; were returned by him with his objections thereto, to the branch in which they respectively originated; were reconsidered, agreeably to the provisions of the constitution, and the vote being taken on their passage, the objections of the governor thereto notwithstanding,

The vote being taken July 2, 1941, on Item #0801-02, the house refused to sustain the objection of the governor by reason of a ruling by the speaker on a point of order that said item was not properly before the house.

The vote being taken July 3, 1941, on the passage of Items #1314-00 and #1314-21, the objections of the governor thereto were sustained, the house having refused, in each instance, to pass the same.

The remainder of the bill (Chapter 419) was approved by the governor June 26, 1941.

One (1) Act entitled "An Act to make records relating to old age assistance, aid to dependent children and aid to the blind confidential, to prohibit the misuse of such records, to create a penalty for such misuse and to provide that the laws concerning the confidential nature of such records may be extended to apply to records relating to general public assistance" (Chapter 630) was declared to be an emergency law by the governor in accordance with the provisions of the forty-eighth amendment to the Constitution "The Referendum. Emergency preamble.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which in part is to empower the cities, towns and districts of the commonwealth to take without delay in the existing emergency of war the action provided for therein, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public safety and convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. During the continuance of the existing state of war between the United States and any foreign country, any city or town is hereby authorized to invest, in defense bonds or other bonds issued by the federal government, a sum or sums not exceeding, in the aggregate, in any year one tenth of one per cent of the assessed valuation of real estate and tangible personal property therein in the preceding year. The aggregate amount so invested and all interest earned thereon shall be set up as a separate fund in the custody of the treasurer thereof, who is hereby authorized, in case any bond held in the fund matures or is called, to reinvest, with the approval of the mayor or selectmen, the proceeds so received in defense or other bonds issued by the federal government. No bonds held under this act may be sold prior to the termination of the existing state of war.

The proceeds from the sale of any such bonds shall be used only for purposes for which the city or town may borrow money for a period of not less than ten years in accordance with sections seven and eight of chapter forty-four of the General Laws; provided, that such proceeds may, in each instance with the approval of the board established under section one of chapter forty-nine of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-three, be appropriated and used in whole or in part for other purposes.

Said board in giving its approval shall give especial consideration to necessities then existing in such city or town involving rehabilitation following the war or due to unemployment conditions or otherwise.

The members of the board aforesaid, when acting under this section or section two, shall receive from the commonwealth compensation to the same extent as provided for services under chapter three hundred and sixty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-three, as amended.

SECTION 2. No loan shall be made by a city or town under authority of chapter four hundred and eighty-seven of the acts of nineteen hundred and forty-one without the approval of said board. Notwithstanding any provision of general or special law, ordinance or by-law to the contrary, a loan order voted in any city under authority of said chapter four hundred and eighty-seven shall be deemed to be an emergency order and as such may be passed in such manner as is provided for emergency orders or ordinances in its charter and shall be in full force and effect immediately upon final favorable action thereon by its city council or chief executive, as the case may be, or upon the expiration of any period specified by such charter for the approval or disapproval of such orders by its chief executive in any case where he fails to approve or disapprove such an order within such period, and a loan order voted in any town under said authority shall be in full force and effect immediately upon final favorable action thereon by its inhabitants or its town meeting members, as the case may be; provided, that in the city of Boston such loan orders may be passed in the manner provided in its charter for loan orders for temporary loans in anticipation of taxes. In any city a loan order under authority of chapter ninety-two of the acts of nineteen hundred and forty-one or of said chapter four hundred and eighty-seven may be passed by vote of two thirds of all of the members of the city council, or of each branch thereof where there are two branches, exclusive of those members who are in the military or naval forces of the United States and are not present at the meeting at which any such vote is taken at the time of the vote, notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary.

SECTION 3. During the continuance of the existing state of war between the United States and any foreign country, notwithstanding the provisions of section three B of chapter four hundred and eighty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and nine, inserted in said chapter by section one of chapter six hundred and four of the acts of nineteen hundred and forty-one, the vote required for approval by the city council of the city of Boston of any transfer of appropriation, other than a loan appropriation, shall be by a ye and nay vote of a majority of all the members of the city council.

SECTION 4. During the continuance of the existing state of war between the United States and any foreign country, all funds granted or allocated by the federal government or by the commonwealth to a city or town for civilian defense purposes may be expended without appropriation in accordance with the terms of said grants or allocations.

SECTION 5. The provisions of said chapter four hundred and eighty-seven, so far as apt, are hereby made applicable to fire, water, light and improvement districts.

SECTION 6. In case any elected officer of a fire, water, light or improvement district is unable to perform the duties of his office by reason of service in the military or naval forces of the United States during the existing state of war between the United States and any foreign country, a majority of the members of a board established as hereinafter provided may in writing appoint an acting officer who in the absence of such absent officer shall possess all the rights and powers, perform all the duties and be subject to all the obligations of said office until the expiration of the term of the absent officer or until his return, whichever first occurs. Said board shall consist of the prudential committee or body having like powers, or, in filling a vacancy in any other elective body of any such district, the members of such other body, and in addition in each case the district clerk and the district treasurer; provided, that any such officer shall not be a member of such board when his office is being filled. No member of any such board shall have more than one vote.

A person appointed under this section shall not receive compensation from the district for service as such acting officer but his compensation therefor, if any, shall be paid by the absent officer. The district treasurer, when so authorized by the absent officer, may make payment to such acting officer, and in such case shall charge such payments to the account of the salary provided for the absent officer.

SECTION 7. Cities and towns are hereby authorized, during the continuance of the existing state of war between the United States and any foreign country, to enter into contracts for the use and occupation by the United States of any properties, real or personal, owned or held by them.

Emergency
preamble.

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to provide immediate financial assistance to certain soldiers, sailors and marines in the service of the United States and to their dependent relatives, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The dependent relatives of such a soldier or sailor who are eligible to receive such aid shall be the wife, children under eighteen years of age, or any child dependent by reason of physical or mental incapacity, or a brother or sister, or a dependent parent, or any person who stood in the relationship of a parent to such soldier or sailor for five years prior to said September sixteenth or, if after said date said soldier or sailor entered said service or was recalled thereto or was continued therein after the expiration of a prior enlistment, for five years prior to his entry into, recall to or continuance in said service. The allowance authorized by this section shall cease on the termination of the service by death or discharge.

SECTION 2. Any person in the military or naval service of the United States, whose dependents are entitled to war allowance under section one, and who is honorably discharged from said service by reason of illness or disability incurred therein, shall be eligible to receive state or military aid under the provisions of said chapter one hundred and fifteen relating to world war service, so far as applicable. If any such person shall die in said service during said state of war, or shall die after an honorable discharge from said service from injuries received or disability or illness incurred therein, his mother, if a widow, his widow and his children, up to the age of eighteen, or any child dependent by reason of physical or mental incapacity, provided that the children were in being prior to his discharge, or prior to the termination of said state of war, or any person who stood to him in the relationship of a parent for five years prior to said September sixteenth or, if after said date said soldier or sailor entered said service or was recalled thereto or was continued therein after the expiration of a prior enlistment, for five years prior to his entry into, recall to or continuance in said service, shall be entitled to the benefit of state aid and soldiers' relief in accordance with the provisions of said chapter one hundred and fifteen relating to world war service, so far as applicable.

SECTION 3. The payments authorized by sections one and two shall be made in the same manner in which, and shall be subject to the same limitations under which, state aid or soldiers' relief is paid to dependent relatives of soldiers or sailors under the provisions of said chapter one hundred and fifteen relative to world war service, so far as applicable and except as otherwise provided herein.

Applicants for war allowance hereunder shall, as a basis for the first payment thereof, state in writing, under oath, the name, age and residence of the person for whom the same is sought, the relationship of such person to the soldier or sailor, the company and regiment or branch of the service in which he was enlisted, or to which he was first assigned, and in which he last served, the date and place of his enlistment, if known, the duration of his service, the amount of United States pay, allotment and federal family allowance, if any, the average weekly amount contributed by the soldier or sailor during the year previous to service, and the reason for the application, and shall furnish such official certificates or records, or other evidence of enlistment, service and discharge and such other information, as may be required.

SECTION 5. The commissioner of state aid and pensions shall, from time to time, furnish each city and town with a sufficient number of blank forms for the use of applicants; shall decide all questions in dispute between applicants and the municipal authorities; shall investigate all payments of war allowance; shall have power to determine all incidental questions arising in connection therewith; and shall have the custody of the original papers relating to each application.

Applications for war allowance may be filed directly with the commissioner of state aid and pensions, who in such case may request the officers authorized by law to furnish state and military aid of the city or town named in the application for a recommendation thereon, or with such officers who shall, within three days, forward the application together with a recommendation thereon, to the commissioner.

SECTION 7. Municipal officers making payments under this act shall make return of the same to the commissioner of state aid and pensions, on blank forms to be furnished by him, in the manner prescribed by the applicable provisions of said chapter one hundred and fifteen, except that so much of section nine of said chapter as relates to the maximum allowance to be allowed shall not apply. Said commissioner shall prescribe rules as to the amount and the disbursement of allowance to the dependents of soldiers or sailors, during the period when such soldiers or sailors are in the actual service of the United States, and reimbursement shall be made to the city or town from the state treasury for amounts actually expended and authorized by said commissioner; provided, that in no case shall more than fifty dollars be reimbursed on account of the total allowance rendered to all dependent relatives of any one soldier or sailor in any one month. All sums expended by cities and towns in excess of the amount so authorized shall be borne by the respective city or town in which the recipient has a legal settlement, in the form of soldiers' relief; but, in the case of dependents of a soldier or sailor without legal settlement, the amount expended by cities and towns in excess of the limit prescribed, after determination by the commissioner of state aid and pensions as to how much allowance is necessary to afford reasonable support, shall be reimbursed by the commonwealth.

SECTION 8. Cities and towns are hereby authorized to raise by taxation such sums as may be necessary to meet expenses incurred under this act and to borrow money therefor. Loans issued under authority of this act shall be outside the debt limit and shall be paid in not more than one year from their dates but shall, except as provided herein, be subject to chapter forty-four of the General Laws exclusive of the limitation contained in the first paragraph of section seven thereof.

Whoever, being entitled to any of the benefits of this act, fraudulently claims or receives pay for a period of time following the termination of his right to receive the same shall be punished by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

AN ACT TO PROVIDE FOR THE SAFETY OF THE COMMON WEALTH DURING THE EXISTING STATE OF WAR.

Chap. 13

Whereas, The supreme emergency of a world wide war, following the declarations of war by the congress of the United States, has resulted in conditions of imminent danger, incident to such a war, to the lives and property of the citizens of the United States and of each state and to the respective governments of the people of the states and nation, calling for a state of preparedness to meet such dangers by the commonwealth and its representatives promptly under changing conditions from time to time, so that the sovereign authority of the commonwealth and of its "supreme executive magistrate" and "commander-in-chief", for the protection of the government and its citizens and their property and interests, as recognized and established by the constitution in seventeen hundred and eighty and reserved to the commonwealth and its citizens by the tenth amendment to the federal constitution, may be exercised when needed for the support of the national government in the prosecution of the war and the protection of the commonwealth and its citizens; and

of state of

- (10) Vocational or other educational facilities supported in whole or in part by public funds, in order to extend the benefits or availability thereof;
- (11) The suspension of the operation of any statute, rule or regulation which affects the employment of persons within the commonwealth when, and at such times as, such suspension becomes necessary in the opinion of the governor to remove any interference, delay or obstruction in connection with the production, processing or transportation of materials which are related to the prosecution of the present war;

(12) Regulation of the manner and method of purchasing or contracting for supplies, equipment or other property or personal or other services, and of contracting for or carrying out public works, for the commonwealth or any of its agencies or political subdivisions;

(17) Modification or variation in the classifications established under sections forty-five to fifty, inclusive, of chapter thirty of the General Laws, as amended, and sections forty-eight to fifty-six, inclusive, of chapter thirty-five of the General Laws, as amended.

SECTION 3. The governor may exercise any power, authority or discretion conferred on him by any provision of this act or of said chapter seven hundred and nineteen by the issuance or promulgation of executive orders or general regulations, or through such department or agency of the commonwealth or of any political subdivision thereof, or such person, as he may direct by a writing signed by him and filed in the office of the state secretary. Any department, agency or person so directed shall act in conformity with any regulations prescribed by the governor for its or his conduct.

Whoever violates any provision of any such executive order or general regulation issued or promulgated by the governor, for the violation of which no other penalty is provided by law, shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars, or both.

SECTION 4. Any provision of any general or special law, or of any rule, regulation, ordinance or by-law, to the extent that such provision is inconsistent with any order or regulation issued or promulgated under this act, shall be inoperative while such order or such last mentioned regulation is in effect; provided, that nothing in this section shall be deemed to affect or prohibit any prosecution for a violation of any such provision before it became inoperative.

SECTION 5. Notwithstanding the provisions of chapter thirty-one of the General Laws, or any other provision of law affecting civil service, and the rules and regulations made thereunder, the director of civil service, supported by a majority vote of the civil service commission, may:

(1) Approve or extend provisional appointments without time limitations until lists can be established or until appointments can be made from eligible lists;

(2) Extend temporary appointments which are made from civil service lists beyond the life of the list;

(3) Allow temporary transfers without regard to classification, beyond a period of six months;

(4) Restrict leaves of absence except for entrance into the armed forces of the United States, for illness, and for such other reason as said director deems to be in the public interest;

(5) Remove from eligible lists the names of individuals who refuse to accept positions which they have previously signified a willingness to accept; and

(6) Restore to the eligible lists the names of persons so removed; and

(7) Exclude from the operation of the civil service laws and rules and regulations any of the positions or employments in temporary agencies, boards or other governmental units of the commonwealth or of its political subdivisions, the existence and powers of which agencies, boards or other units are limited to a period terminating not later than one year after the termination of said war, or any lesser period.

Any appointment or transfer made under this section shall be effective only for the period during which this act is in effect.

SECTION 6. During any blackout or during the period between an air raid warning and the following "all clear" signal, regular and reserve members of police and fire forces of the commonwealth or of its political subdivisions, and members of the state guard and the armed forces of the United States while in uniform, may enter upon private property for the purpose of enforcing blackout or air raid precaution rules, regulations or orders issued by or under authority of the governor. Such members may at any time enter upon private property in compliance with written orders of the governor, for the sole purpose of enforcing laws, rules, regulations, ordinances or by-laws specifically set forth by the governor in such orders; provided, that nothing in this section shall be deemed or construed to prohibit any entry upon private property otherwise authorized by law.

SECTION 6A. Persons appointed to the auxiliary police force in a city or town pursuant to paragraph (a) of section five of said chapter seven hundred and nineteen shall exercise or perform such of the powers or duties of police officers as may be prescribed by the appointing authority; provided, that said powers or duties shall not be exercised or performed by them except while they are on active duty and displaying an authorized identifying badge or other insignia after being called to such duty by the head of the police force of such city or town to meet a situation which, in his opinion, cannot be adequately handled by the regular police force and by the reserve police force, if any, of such city or town. Auxiliary police in towns, but not in cities, may be authorized by the appointing authority to exercise the powers conferred by the provisions of section six of this act upon members of regular or reserve police forces of said towns.

SECTION 7. No person shall be civilly liable for any act done in pursuance of any provision of this act or of any order or regulation issued or promulgated thereunder, notwithstanding that such provision, order or regulation shall subsequently be determined to be invalid or unconstitutional. No city or town shall be liable for any damage sustained to person or property as the result of an authorized blackout.

SECTION 8. Any owner of property of which possession has been taken under paragraph (c) of section six of said chapter seven hundred and nineteen, to whom no award has been made or who is dissatisfied with the amount awarded him as compensation by the governor with the approval of the council, instead of proceeding under paragraphs (d), (e) and (f) of said section, may have his damages determined under chapter seventy-nine of the General Laws.

SECTION 9. If any action under authority of any provision of this act or of said chapter seven hundred and nineteen except paragraph (c) of section six thereof, or any order or regulation issued or promulgated under any such provision, in itself constitutes an appropriation of property to the public use, compensation may be recovered therefor under chapter seventy-nine of the General Laws from the body politic or corporate appropriating such property.

SECTION 10. The provisions of this act and the authority granted hereunder shall be effective and be exercised only in so far as they do not contravene any law of the United States or the exercise of any lawful power by the president.

SECTION 11. If any section or subdivision of this act, or any application thereof, shall be held invalid, unconstitutional or inoperative, the remainder of this act, or other applications of such section or subdivision, shall not be affected thereby.

SECTION 12. This act shall be in effect during the continuance of the existing state of war between the United States and any foreign country; provided, that this act shall cease to be in effect upon the earlier adoption by both branches of the general court of a joint resolution stating that it is no longer necessary for the public good and safety.

THE CONTINUANCE OF THE EXISTING STATE OF WAR BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND ANY FOREIGN COUNTRY. Chap. 16

Whereas, The deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, which is to make available to the commonwealth and its political subdivisions the services of retired officers and employees thereof during the existing state of war, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience. Emergency

Chap. 17 AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE TERMS OF CERTAIN NOTES TO BE ISSUED BY THE COMMONWEALTH.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

The notes which the state treasurer is authorized to issue under section two of chapter nine of the acts of the current year, providing for the establishment in the state treasury of a surplus commodity stamp trust fund and regulating the administration thereof, shall be issued for maximum terms to expire not later than August first, nineteen hundred and forty-three, as recommended by the governor in a message to the general court dated January thirty-first, nineteen hundred and forty-two, in pursuance of section 3 of Article LXII of the amendments to the constitution.
